Tense Leavenworth Hunts For Noble, Finds Nothing

By Gene Budig

Leavenworth, Kan.—An uneasy quiet settled over this city early Wednesday after a day of fear saw a dragnet search in vain for kidnap-rape suspect Harlan Lynn Noble.

The 50 volunteer searchers that combed the city returned to their homes late Tuesday night as 5 sheriff's and 4 police cars continued their vigil.

"We've covered this city like a blanket," Leavenworth Sheriff Robert Woodson said. "But we'll keep working until something turns up."

Both police and deputy sheriffs are working participating in the search for Noble, who is charged with the Aug. 1 kidnap-rape of a Lincoln, Neb., girl.

Leavenworth is a city of some 25,000 located 20 miles west and 16 north of Kansas City.

"The folks around here are scared and mighty jittery," he said. "Seems as though everyone has seen a Noble."

The search for Noble shifted here from Atchison early Tuesday afternoon when a kitchen employe at Leavenworth's St. John's Hospital said a man he later identified from a photo as Noble came to the door and asked him for food. He left in haste when he was refused.

A man answering Noble's description was also seen attempting to enter Leavenworth Salvation Army headquarters Tuesday morning, according to Police Chief Bill Lee.

A passer-by said the man left the Salvation Army headquarters after finding the front door was locked.

Lee added this call was received minutes before Noble was reported at the hospital, where an employe said after seeing pictures of Noble:

'Or Twin Brother'

"That was either Harlan Noble or his twin-brother."

Noble is charged in Lincoln with the kidnap-rape of 6-year-old Theresa Dowding of 902 No. 22nd. He was last seen in Lincoln Aug. 5 and he apparently eluded a police dragnet and somehow left Lincoln.

The search for Noble in Atchison was called off at 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Acting Atchison Police Chief Al Amrine said Noble apparently left the neighborhood Tuesday morning.

The hunt began Monday when a man tried to attack 8-year-old Becky Koester of Atchison.

Becky, still suffering from shock, told police the man let her go when her younger brother screamed for help. She suffered only slight bruises.

Atchison police said Becky identified her attacker as Noble.

Parents of the girl refused to let her talk to or be photographed by newsmen.

Atchison police said 160 policemen, state troopers and volunteers conducted the search.

Search RR Yards

Police searched the railroad yards from the city limits to the Missouri River late Monday. Each freight car was inspected, police said.

Kansas City police said Tuesday night that they have no report on Noble being in the city.

Noble escaped from the Larned, Kan., mental hospital June 3 and Lincoln police have determined he checked in at a Lincoln hotel the next day. He had been transferred to Larned from the Kansas State Penitentiary at Lansing, Kan., in 1956.

He had been sentenced to Lansing for the kidnap-rape of a young Leavenworth girl in 1952.

Ex-Wife Says Noble Was 'Looking For Me'

By Nancy Shirley

A woman who believes Harlan Lynn Noble came to Nebraska "looking for me," told The Star Tuesday that she would "do anything I can to help catch him and put him where he belongs."

This woman, an Omaha housewife, was Noble's second wife. She married Noble on December 25, 1952, in St. Louis, Mo., after months of correspondence through a "Lonely Hearts' Club."

"I never thought much about the letters," she relates, "but he (Noble) kept wanting to get married."

3-Month Marriage

The marriage, which lasted only 3 months, ended in a divorce when Noble was convicted of the rape of a 6-year-old Leavenworth, Kan., girl.

"I thought at that time, which was 7 years ago, that he was out of my life," she said. "I try to forget."

"But the pictures and stories that told about the things he did to that little girl in Lincoln brought the memories all back," she continued.

Noble Has Son

Noble has a son "who must be about 15 or 16 years old now," by his first wife, she said. "He often talked about the boy," she relates, "and kept telling me that I should see what a nice boy he was."

Noble, who she called "a pretty religious man, "attended church frequently and often sat reading the Bible at night.

"He doesn't know that I'm remarried," she said, "and I'm sure he thinks that if he can find me, I'll take him back. If he wasn't looking for me, he'd have stayed in Kansas."

Speaking of those 3 months she lived with Noble, his ex-wife said that she "was on the worried side" on occasions about some of the things Noble did and said.

'Kind Of Queer'

"He talked kind of queer lots of times," she said, "but I thought he was either kidding me, or just sort of out of his head."

"Then one night I went down town with him, and he kept looking at all the little children. Then I had an idea that something was wrong with him. But I didn't know what to do."

"Then, while I was working in Springfield, he left one night and went to Leavenworth and did all those things to that little girl," she continued.

Slashed, Assaulted

(This incident involved a 6-year-old girl who Noble had taken from her bedroom, slashed and assaulted. He was committed to the Kansas State Penitentiary at Lansing, where he served until being sent to the Kansas State Hospital in Larned.)

"I'm willing to go along with the police and do anything I can to help catch him," she said. "It would be a privilege to think that he's out of the way.

"Why put all the little children around here in danger?" she asked.

RECORD CORN CROP STILL SEEN IN STATE

299 Million Bu. Total Predicted

43-Bushel Yield Per Acre Seen; Forecast Down Since July

By the Associated Press

Government crop observers reported Tuesday Nebraska's corn crop doesn't look as prosperous as it did a month ago, but still stands to rank as the biggest in history.

U.S. Department of Agriculture crop specialists said it appeared as of Aug. 1 that Nebraska would produce 299,108,000 bushels of corn. That would amount to 43 bushels an acre.

The 299 million bushel total is 14 million bushels less than was forecast as of July 1. But it would still top by 5 million bushels the 294,036,000 bushels raised in 1927 and which stands as the record to date.

Last year Nebraska produced 279,851,000 bushels from a substantially smaller acreage. The average yield of 51½ bushels an acre was a record.

Wheat Down

Between the July 1 and Aug. 1 estimates, Nebraska put away most of its winter wheat crop. The new estimate of the harvested crop dropped to 69,520,000 bushels, or 22 bushels an acre.

That represented a substantial cutback from the 77½ million bushels expected a month ago. It was far under the 113 million production of 1958 and less than the 75-million bushel 10-year average.

Kenneth Logan of Lincoln, statistician with the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics, said the losses are being taken by dryland corn in the southern two tiers of counties from Gage County west to Colorado.

Some Firing

Some dryland corn is firing, but no drought situation has yet been reached. He said a general rain — about 1 to 2 inches slow and steady — would be "a big help."

There are also places in central Nebraska that are too dry, but scattered showers have alleviated the situation somewhat.

Around Aug. 1 when the reports were made, the northeast part of the state looked bad too, but rains since then have improved the outlook.

The state has about 5,456,000 acres of dryland corn. Logan said the 1,500,000 acres of irrigated corn look "real nice."

Rain, Hail Damage

Since the July 1 forecast the state has had damaging rains and hail in some areas.

The outlook for oats, unlike wheat and corn, took an upturn this month. The U.S. Department of Agriculture forecasters estimated the crop at 29,688,000 bushels compared with a 27,214,000 bushel outlook a month ago. At the present figure the crop would average out at 24 bushels an acre.

The rye crop was estimated at 1,937,000 bushels or 13 bushels an acre, down a little from last month's estimate.

Barley Up A Bit

The barley crop was set at 7,106,000 or 22 bushels an acre, up a bit for the July figure.

Soybeans for beans now are expected to amount to 3,564,000 bushels or 27 bushels an acre.

Other 1959 forecast figures for Nebraska as of Aug. 1: sorghum grain 49,058,000; dry beans 1,750 pound per acre for a total of 1,242,000 hundredweight; sugar beet 16 tons per acre for a total of 992,000 tons, and potatoes 142 hundredweight per acre for a total of 2,467,000 hundredweight.

(The state's weekly crop report appears on page 23.)

Lincoln's Dollar Days To Feature Many Bargains

. . . Event Is Wednesday, Thursday

Dollar Days, Lincoln's special semi-annual shopping event, will be held Wednesday and Thursday.

Downtown stores will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday to accommodate shoppers.

New fall offerings, including everything from pencil boxes to parkas for back to school, as well as summer merchandise, will be on sale.

Lincoln merchants have been combing America's markets to bring shoppers greater Dollar Day bargains, and thousands of thrifty bargain hunters from Lincoln's rapidly expanding trade area are expected to take advantage of them.

The Lincoln Promotion Council, which sponsors the sales event, anticipates at least 3 times more shoppers than are served by Lincoln merchants on a regular business day.

Dollar Days, by tradition and success are Lincoln's most widely-known and biggest sales event, was first launched by the Lincoln newspapers in 1931, and has been held every February and August since then with the exception of several years during World War II.

The sale is always held during a peak buying period. With prospects of an outstanding last quarter for both business and agriculture, Lincoln Promotion Council Chairman Warner Rhoads expects this Dollar Day Sale to be the most successful in history.

Slugged Bandit With Wrench—

Youth, Girl Robbed In Van Dorn Park

By Bill Anderson

A 19-year-old Lincoln youth and his girl companion were robbed at knife point late Tuesday night while they were sitting in their parked car in Van Dorn park.

Police said the youth told them the man came to an open car window shirtless and with a bandanna on his face and ordered him and the girl to place their billfolds on the car seat.

The youth said the man then told him to get into the trunk, but he refused, saying he would not unless the girl went also.

The masked robber then told the couple to stay inside the trunk for 15 minutes. The youth finally managed to open the trunk lid and came out with a tire wrench in his hands. The youth said the man was still there and he struck him with the wrench, spinning him around.

'Want To Play Rough'

The man then said, "So you want to play rough" and fled into the bushes.

Police were combing the dark park early Wednesday.

The youth said the robber indicated that another man was waiting in the bushes at the time of the robbery.

Police said there is a possibility the man and his alleged partner could have been two escapees who fled the Nebraska Penitentiary Tuesday afternoon.

The man was described as about 30, 5 feet 9 inches tall and wearing an odd-shaped hat, possibly a straw cowboy-type.

The youth said the man took approximately $18 from his billfold and an undetermined amount from the girl's.

Cooler Readings Seen; 100 High First Since 1957

Partly cloudy skies with cooler temperatures are predicted for Nebraska Wednesday with showers scheduled in the east during the morning and southwest in the afternoon.

Lincoln recorded a high of 100 at the Lincoln Air Force Base Tuesday afternoon, the first time since 1957 the temperature climbed to the 3 digit mark here.

Ainsworth reported the state high Tuesday of 106. Scottsbluff had the low, 56.

Faubus Asks No Violence

But NAACP Leader Claims Her House Was Fired On

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday night he saw nothing to be gained by opposing integration of Little Rock's public high schools Wednesday with violence.

Gov. Faubus

Faubus went on television to accuse the school board and police Chief Gene Smith of becoming puppets for the federal government but he urged citizens to fight integration through the election of officials who would not betray them.

Even as Faubus spoke, Mrs. L. C. Bates, state president of the National Assn., for the Advancement of Colored People, reported 3 shots had been fired at her house from a speeding car.

The shots struck a nearby house occupied by a white family, Mrs. Bates said.

Faubus warned integrationists that "Victory is not yet yours. Your trouble is only beginning."

Foes Converging

The governor said he had received reports from over the state of caravans heading for Little Rock to protest the token integration of the schools.

Faubus said the reports were similar to ones he received in the fall of 1957 when mob violence broke out at Central High School over the integration of 9 Negroes there.

"It is quieter now but more bitter," Faubus said in comparing the feeling now with that in 1957.

To Miss Rally

Faubus said he would not be at the state capitol Wednesday for a segregationist rally. He added he would be in close touch with the situation, however.

Faubus declined to comment on reports he had ordered a large number of state police to stand by.

Earlier in the day Faubus had said "If the Little Rock situation is settled and if the schools are integrated, it will be under the compulsion of federal bayonets."

Battle Begins On Labor Bill

. . . Bitter House Debate Seen

Washington (AP)—The House waded Tuesday into a bare-knuckle fight over labor control legislation, with the issue very much in doubt.

Immediately, a bloc of Republicans and Southern Democrats went on the offensive for a bill supported by President Eisenhower.

Northern Democrats counterattacked in behalf of a rival bill backed by the AFL-CIO and other segments of organized labor.

A third force—led by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex)—appealed for an end to emotion and for passage of a bill fashioned by the House Labor Committee, a bill described as a middle-of-the-road compromise.

The air crackled with tension. Most members were in their seats and the galleries were packed with observers from labor and industry groups.

For months, the pressure has been building toward this climax—toward what shapes up as the most bitter floor struggle over labor matters since the Taft-Hartley law was enacted 12 years ago.

Before the House met, Republican congressional leaders went to the White House and told Eisenhower the bill he wants will win out. It calls for stricter controls on unions than the two other proposals in contention.

All 3 versions are modeled after an anticorruption bill passed by the Senate last April. But they differ in the stringency of their provisions.

(Both sides are lobbying heavily on pending labor legislation. Story on Page 2.

Oldest Vet Is Failing

Houston, Tex. (AP)—The condition of Walter W. Williams, 116, lone survivor of the Civil War, continued to weaken Tuesday.

"He now refuses to eat, refuses to speak, refuses to do anything," said a daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, who has cared for the Confederate veteran at her home the past 3 years.

"It's just up to the Lord now," she said.

Williams received a mixture of milk, egg and water Monday through an eyedropper, but Mrs. Bowles said he refused to take any food Tuesday.

"He's just tired, so tired," she said. "I just don't see how he's going to make it this time."

Washington (AP)—Congress acted Tuesday to render national honors to Williams.

The House and Senate passed and sent to President Eisenhower a resolution requesting him to issue a proclamation calling for the flag of the U.S. to be flown at half staff when Williams dies.

More Posters Are Sent Out

Lincoln Police Chief Joe Carroll said Tuesday that another 500 posters with kidnap-rape suspect Harlan Lynn Noble's photos and description have been printed and that they will be mailed to more lawmen in Kansas, Missouri and Iowa.

This brings to 5,000 the number of posters which have been distributed in Lincoln and throughout the United States concerning Noble.

Carroll said the posters will be used to "blanket" the Kansas-Missouri-Iowa areas which Noble has been known to frequent.

He said Asst. Lincoln Police Chief Orren Graves is still in Kansas working on the case.

He'll Pop Up 100 Miles Away, Says Newsman

Leavenworth newspaperman Marshall Gardiner Tuesday night said, "If I know Noble, he'll pop up a 100 miles from here tomorrow."

Gardiner, one of the 50 city deputies searching for Noble, said he knew the accused as well as anyone in the Leavenworth area.

"I used to talk to him quite a bit before he assaulted a 10 year-old girl here in 1952," Gardiner said.

"He was a hard guy to figure," he added, "But don't sell him short—he's smart as a fox."

The newsman says he talked to Noble 20 or 30 times.

Gas Tax Hike Plans Spurned

House Committee Seeking Means To Keep Highway Program Going

Washington (UPI)—The House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday rejected a series of proposals for raising federal gasoline taxes as a means of solving the financial crisis in the highway construction program.

At a two-hour closed-door session, the committee spurned some halfdozen plans for replenishing the badly-depleted trust fund which finances the building of the 41,000-mile interstate road network. Most involved a hike in the gasoline tax.

For the first time, the committee took up a modified version of President Eisenhower's proposal to bolster the fund by raising the tax from 3 to 4½ a gallon. A variation of the President's plan, offered by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa), was rejected by a reported 17-8 vote.

Ike Sees Halt

The President has warned Congress that the construction program would grind to a halt unless something was done about the trust fund. He has rejected all alternatives to a tax hike.

Other plans advanced and turned down by the committee included proposals to:

—Increase the gas tax by one-half cent a gallon and divert some auto excise revenues from the general treasury into the highway trust fund. This was defeated 15 to 10.

—Raise the gas tax by one-half cent and float a billion-dollar bond issue, which would be paid off by diverting some excise taxes into the highway fund. This also was rejected 15 to 10.

—Boost the gas tax by one cent until next July 1, when the hike would be dropped to one-half cent for the next 4 years. This was defeated 16-9.

—Ease the immediate crisis by issuing bonds and by stretching out the construction time-table. This was rejected by voice vote.

Both Sides Lobbying Strongly

Washington (UPI) — Labor Unions and business groups, using differing lobbying tactics, were engaged Tuesday in a titanic struggle to shape the labor reform lgislation on the House floor.

Many House members said they never before had been caught in the middle of such powerful opposing pressures.

Some of the 435 House members, all of whom face re-election in 1960, reported they were getting veiled threats from both sides that their entire political future depends on how they vote when the showdown comes later this week.

Labor unions were counting heavily on face-to-face lobbying by a large number of union officials and members imported to Washington to buttonhole their congressmen.

Forces Bolstered

They included 250 Teamsters Union officials and a smaller force of AFL-CIO lobbyists. An AFL-CIO spokesman said his organization's regular staff of 25 Washington lobbyists had been augmented by 50 unionists from out of town.

There were not nearly as many business representatives on hand to confront members personally. The lobbying of business groups, spearheaded by state chambers of commerce, centered largely on long-distance telephone calls and telegrams to lawmakers from prominent and influential businessmen in their home districts.

Some lawmakers said business groups had arranged for close political associates and personal friends in their home districts to call them and advise them how to vote.

Roper & Sons Gets 4300 O Building OK

A construction permit for a new Roper & Sons mortuary at 4300 O, estimated to cost $104,000, was issued Tuesday by the city building inspector.

The proposed brick and redwood structure of contemporary design will be situated on a 260-by-300-foot tract providing off-street parking for 75 to 100 cars.

According to the permit, the building will be 78 by 100 feet and will have two floors.

Roper & Sons is presently located at 1319 M with a branch facility at 6338 Havelock.

Downtown Site

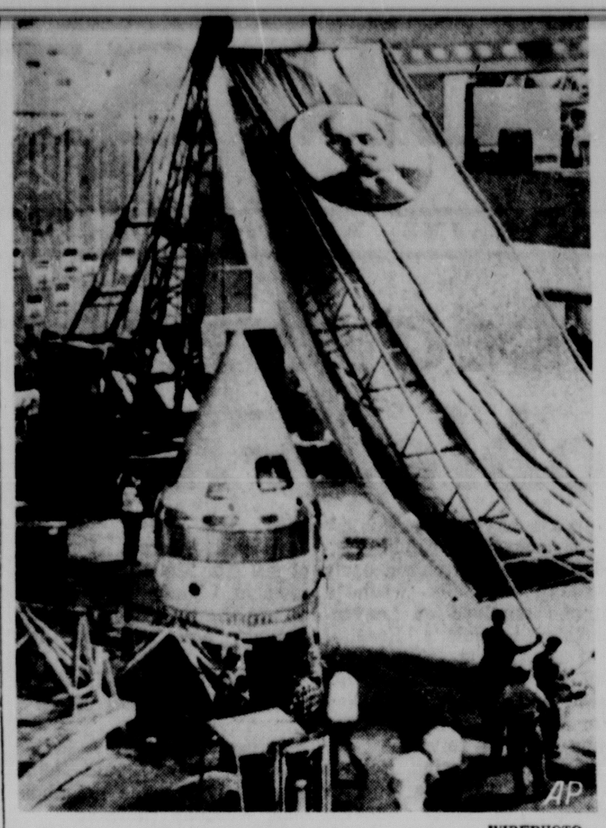

Max Roper said that no decision has been made whether the downtown location will be retained or disposed of when the new building is completed.

The 4300 O tract was purchased by Roper & Sons for approximately $50,000 in January, 1958.

Initial ground work for the new building was started last week.

Also issued was a building permit to the Church of Christ for its new church building at 5640 Vine. Estimated construction cost is $57,500.

A church spokesman said its property at 14th and F would be disposed of when the new church is completed in late November.

Dangerous Girl Mental Patient Flees—Caught

A 16-year-old mental patient who shot her landlady in Kansas City and killed an Omaha man escaped from the Lincoln State Hospital late Tuesday, but was apprehended by Lincoln police an hour later.

Officers Robert Edmunds and Donald Kahler spotted Mary Alice Holmes as she left a home near 3rd and L street where she had attempted to place a call. The girl had earlier tried to start a parked car in the vicinity, police said.

State Hospital Supt. Dr. Richard W. Gray said the girl apparently escaped by tying bedsheets together and lowering herself from the window.

She carried a bundle of clothes and blankets, a pair of sunglasses and a pliers when police caught her.

She was adjudged mentally deficient and schizophrenic by the Douglas County Board of Medical Health and was ordered held in the Nebraska State Hospital.

The girl had admitted the May 22 slaying of Spencer Y. Daniels, 39, of Omaha whom she shot in the back after they parked on the banks of Carter Lake, near Omaha.

She also confessed to the shooting of her Kansas City landlady, Marcy C. Jackson with a .25 caliber automatic. The landlady recovered from the wound.

4 Hurt In Crash –None Seriously

Four persons were injured in a two-car accident Tuesday morning at 17th and N but all were released after medical treatment.

Police said a car driven by Paul J. Maxwell, 18, of 2550 Stockwell, was in collision with one driven by William K. Eno, 54, of 3515 C. Maxwell was northbound on 17th and Eno eastbound on N at the time.

Maxwell, Eno, and two passengers in Maxwell's car —Michael Donahue, 19, of 1820 So. 48th, and Barry Ehrmann, 18, of 2431 Sheridan—were injured, police said. Eno and Donahue were released after hospital treatment and Maxwell and Ehrmann reportedly were treated by their family doctors.

Beck Nixes Paying Mansion Expense

Rules Past Costs Of $1,800-$1,900 Can't Be Made From Present Funds

By Betty Person

Attorney General C. S. Beck ruled Tuesday that Gov. Ralph Brooks cannot be reimbursed out of current appropriations for some $1,800 to $1,900 in Mansion expenses incurred during the last 6 months of the previous biennium.

The governor had asked the attorney general what procedure to follow in seeking reimbursement for "expenses personally advanced for items of Mansion maintenance where the appropriation for that purpose was exhausted at the end of the biennium."

"It would appear that the practical procedure open to the governor in seeking reimbursement is through a claim filed with the sundry Claims Board," the attorney general said in an opinion written by Assistant Attorney General Richard H. Williams.

The Sundry Claims Board consists of the attorney general, audtior and tax commissioner.

Vouchers Returned

Question over reimbursement for the expenses arose when State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington returned to the governor's office vouchers submitted for the expenses. Herrington wrote the governor that he did not believe he (Herrington) had the authority to approve the vouchers for payment.

Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Brooks, said Tuesday he had not yet had time to "analyze" the attorney general's opinion.

Asked if the governor would file a claim with the Sundry Claims Board, Conrad said he did not know, adding that there appeared to be "no immediate haste" to the problem since the claim must be approved by the 1961 Legislature.

The Board may take final action only on claims of $250 or less under authority given it by the 1959 Legislature.

'Advanced Money'

Conrad said, "it means the governor, himself, has personally advanced out of his own pocket 6 months' expenses of the Mansion to provide the people of the State of Nebraska with tours, teas and the type of reception to which they are entitled from the state when they visit the official home of its governor."

The Legislature several years ago approved an expense allowance of $200 a month for governors to help defray the costs of official entertaining and similar expenses.

The 1959 Budget Committee added $30,000 to the governor's budget which Brooks had requested if the Mansion was to be used for official entertaining.

Not Preceding Year

Citing a Supreme Court ruling on a case in the early 1920's, the attorney general said the Court held that the "law of Nebraska has been that an appropriation of the sort in question is for the debts and expenses of the particular period or biennium for which it is made, and not for those of any preceding year."

The Court further held that "as a matter of law, the Legislature could not provide for the payment of past obligations out of an appropriation for the expenses of a future period."

The attorney general said the "items claimed as 'maintenance' in this instance were all contracted and performed in the 1957-59 biennium," and then noted that on June 30 the appropriation for the account was "exhausted except for a very small amount."

As in the case cited, the opinion continued, "the appropriation for the 1959-61 biennium is limited by terms of the bill to expenditures for operation of the state government during the period of such biennium."

Lincoln Chest's 'Business Sponsor' Kickoff Is Today

The Lincoln Community Chest's new "Business Sponsor" program will be launched at 4 p.m. Wednesday at a training and kickoff meeting for program volunteers at the National Bank of Commerce.

According to Gene Eaton, campaign general chairman, the new program will give Lincoln business firms an opportunity to indicate their support and to more fully understand the United Community Chest and Red Cross campaign.

Eaton said that Business Sponsor program volunteers will explain the United Campaign to nearly 300 smaller Lincoln firms.

Member agencies of the Community Chest are in charge of the new program, headed by John Johnson, general secretary of the YMCA, and Robert Magee, YMCA president. Assistants are John Gedwillo, director of Goodwill Industries, and Mrs. Dorothy Bredemeyer, Camp Fire Girls executive secretary. Board members or friends of Chest agencies will act as volunteers in contacting the firms.

Playground, Hall, Lunchroom Duties For All Lincoln Teachers Approved

By Virgil Falloon

The Board of Education approved Tuesday revised policies requiring all teachers to serve on playground, lunchroom and hall supervision and providing for teacher supervision of the noon program in elementary schools.

Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools, said the policies would save from $22,000 to $24,000 during the next school year and "will not impose any unreasonable duties upon certificated (teacher) personnel."

He said the policy is similar to most other school systems and would reverse a trend during the past decade or so of excusing teachers from supervisory duties and employing part-time help.

On Call 8 To 5

Under the new policy, all teachers, regardless of assignment, and nurses will be on call from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The general school-day assignment will be from 8:15 a.m. to 4 p.m. in elementary schools and 8 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. in all secondary schools.

Concerning supervision of the noon program in the elementary school, it will become part of the total school program and a part of every teacher's responsibility.

Lunchroom personnel will share general supervision for the lunch period, but behavior problems will be the responsibility of teacher personnel on duty.

Rotation Possible

Teachers may be assigned supervisory duties on a rotation basis or by specific assignment by the school principals.

On a rotation basis, Dr. Watkins estimated an individual teacher probably would not have lunchroom duty oftener than 2 or 3 times a year.

The new policy will also permit principals to use an adjusted noon hour program in lieu of the regular noon hour plan. Four schools have been using the adjusted plan on a trial basis, Dr. Watkins said.

New School

In other action, the Board approved a preliminary plot plan for the proposed new elementary school near 68th and Sumner on a 8.5-acre site.

Dr. Watkins said a 3-unit school is proposed, but provisions should be made for future expansion to 4 units.

Burket Graf, a Lincoln architect, was directed to proceed with preliminary building plans.

Ready By 1960-61

The new school, located in the Park Manor East area is proposed for occupancy during the 1960-61 school year.

The Board agreed to have its insurance needs on school building reappraised by insurance appraisers to be selected with the approval of its insurance committee.

In the past, construction contractors had been used for this appraisal on a fee basis. School officials said the appraisal work is provided by insurance companies without charge and recommended the change.

The reappraisal work will be done in line with the board's policy of re-examination of its insurance policies every 5 years.

Other Board action:

—Awarded O'Shea-Rogers Motor Co. purchase contracts on low bid for 3½-ton pickup trucks, $4,455.48; one ½-ton panel truck, $1,731.26; and one 1½-ton panel truck $3,750.

—Awarded purchase contract for two tractors to Christensen's for $4,162.

—Awarded Notifier Corp., Lincoln, a $7,607.61 contract for installation of automatic fire detection equipment in 15 schools. Other bids ranged upwards to $15,017.

—Awarded George Cook Construction Co. a $3,828 contract for drainage work at Holmes School.

All board members were present except I. J. Devoe and Mrs. Roscoe Hill.

Driver Education In City Schools To Be Studied For Expansion

Driver education in the Lincoln public schools is to be carefully studied for possible expansion of the program.

The Board of Education, in discussion with school officials, agreed that possible routes for an expanded program with reduced costs should be explored.

Supt. Steven N. Watkins reported that only one-fourth of eligible pupils (about 600) are now receiving driver training, but that "this is the most expensive program in the schools."

Mass Costs Lower

Costs can be cut if driver education is put on a mass basis, he said. Use of simulated-driving equipment with less behind-the-wheel time could be a means.

Dr. Watkins said more pupils register for driver education than the school can handle. Both Watkins and board member Robert Ammon noted that pipils taking driver training have fewer accidents.

It was suggested that insurance companies might be interested in helping with driver training.

6 Hours Behind Wheel

Asst. Supt. R. L. Fredstrom said pupils receive 30 hours of classroom instruction and 6 hours behind the wheel.

He said the administration is presently working to improve and expand the program on 3 phases:

—Distribution of a brochure to parents to show how they can help teach good driving.

Bigger Classes

—Enlarging classroom instruction to 30 or 35 pupils.

—Determining through pretesting what behind-the-wheel proficiency the pupils already have so as to eliminate all or part of their behind-the-wheel training and improve the present 1 to 4 teacher-pupil ratio.

Board members suggested the present program be studied to see what other facets there are on which the program could be expanded.

Enrollment To Hit 23,645

Lincoln school enrollment may hit 23,645 for the 1959-60 school year—an increase of 1,245 pupils from last year's enrollment.

School Supt. Steven N. Watkins told the Board of Education there don't appear to be any particular problems this year, but that 4 elementary schools were approaching maximum capacity.

Nearest the critical point is Calvert school, showing a predicted enrollment of 575 against a 615-pupil maximum. By 1963 with a predicted 786 pupils, the school will need four more classrooms.

2 Need Watching

Two other schools "bearing careful watching" are Meadow Lane and Merle Beattie.

Meadow Lane is "all right now, but will reach capacity in a couple of years," Dr. Watkins said.

He said Merle Beattie "would probably need another addition in a year or two." The school's capacity of 690 will be reached in 1961 and require 3 additional classrooms by 1962 or 1963.

Holmes school will also require additional classrooms on basis of present enrollment trend, but the superintendent said that a district adjustment could probably be made when the 68th and Sumner school is completed in 1961.

The predicted 1959 enrollment of 23,645 breaks down as 15,056 elementary, 4,869 junior high, and 3,720 senior high. The 5-year projection predicts a 29,806 total in 1963 with 18,584 elementary; 6,133 junior high, and 5,034 senior high.

Quick Results For Council

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It hasn't taken the City Council long to reap the harvest from this year's approach to certain salary matters. But the harvest, unfortunately, is mighty slim and composed mainly of weeds. It has been Councilmen C. W. D. Kinsey who has led the opposition to anything by way of higher salaries than has already been decided upon by a Council majority.

It was Kinsey who was his usual caustically critical self when he told City Attorney Ralph Nelson how far out of line he was with a suggested salary of $8,000 a year for Deputy City Attorney Norma VerMaas. Kinsey's urging prevailed and Mrs. VerMaas was given a $500-a-year boost to $6,500—just $500 more than she was making when she started more than two years ago. And now that Mrs. VerMaas has resigned, Councilman Kinsey should be appointed a committee of one to secure someone in her place at $6,500 a year with her experience and diligence.

Kinsey Vetoes Pay Raise

And while he is doing it, he might be honest enough with the prospect to tell him that the work load in the city attorney's office is far greater than that found in the average private law office. Also, that there are fewer attorneys handling city work than there are at either the county or state level and that the city legal department's salaries are well below those found at either the state or county.

Kinsey, apparently, has been too long on the side of private management to look realistically at employes' salaries. Mrs. VerMaas' case is only the most glaring example of what happened this year in regard to salaries. The rest of the story is not so bad but so long as we have entered the general area, we may as well conclude with the entire affair.

The Council had an opportunity this year to do an outstanding job in this area of salaries because there were comparatively few other pressing matters. What it did do was far better than had ever been done in any previous year but still it was inadequate. Twenty-five dollars a month across the board to regular city employes was nice, at best, but pretty small when you look at the existing low salaries and the skimpy raises that have been given the past 10 years.

Then, a few department heads were given merit raises ranging from around $400 to $1,500 a year, most of them about $500. However, they then did not share in the over-all $25-a-month boost. Thus, they received only a very little bit more than the average employe, despite their long years of service and constantly growing responsibility.

And there was a notable exception, even, among these so-called merit raises. Park Superintendent James Ager stayed where he was at $7,260 a year except for the $25 a month given everyone. Ager also has a home furnished him and has not complained to anyone.

But just the same, Ager is an outstanding park superintendent and could easily get a job in many places for considerably more than he is making here. But the Council evidently decided to consider in his case, not what he is worth, but what he will stay for.

The next foul-up came within the Police and fire departments where a $40-a-month across the board increase was given. This is like the $25 for other employes — nice but just not enough. Knocked out—again at Kinsey's insistance and persuasion—was a longevity pay schedule of $5 a month more per year for every five years of service within the same rank up to a total of three raises or $15. And neither Police Chief Joseph T. Carroll nor Fire Chief E. Paul Feaster was given anything in addition to the $40 a month given everyone in the two departments. With the extra $40, Carroll will make $7,946 a year —just too low a salary for the job, despite all pension considerations.

Police And Fire Dept. Salaries

Losses such as Mrs. VerMaas and those which will come in the years ahead as a result of such false economy moves as the Council has made this year will cost the taxpayers in many ways, not save them anything. Even more disappointing is the fact that the opportunity to do the right thing in these matters may not present itself again for a good many more years.

Latin America Is Close Trouble Spot

WASHINGTON — It may seem a long way between Nixon's conversations with Khrushchev in Moscow and the conference of Pan American foreign ministers at Santiago, Chile, but there's an important connection between them just the same.

In Moscow, Khrushchev complained to Nixon that the United States had ringed Russia with a bulwark of military bases which were a threat to peace.

In retaliation for that ring of bases, the Soviet now finds itself in a position where it may soon be able to ring the United States with unfriendly countries; perhaps eventually military bases.

For Cuba, now governed by anti-American Fidel Castro, and influenced by Communist advisers, is just as close to the United States as Turkey and Pakistan are to Russia. Furthermore, Castro has been branching out with raids on Panama, Nicaragua, and the Dominican Republic, with a view in setting up new anti-American, possibly pro-Communist, governments in those key countries, all of them as important to the safety of the United States as Turkey and Pakistan are to Russia.

This is what the Santiago conference is all about. It's called by the Pan American Union to try to work out a solid front of Pan American states against invasion, war, and, in effect, pro-Communist penetration of the Caribbean. However, the United States will face rough sledding. And this is not due particularly to the operations of Moscow. It is due to fumbling in Washington, neglect of the Good Neighbor policy, and the natural demand of poorer populations of the Caribbean for a higher standard of living.

Note: Approximately 700 mercenary Spanish soldiers, sent by Dictator Franco, are now in the Dominican Republic. To have Spanish soldiers in a country once under Spain, within a few miles of the United States, would have brought headlines of horror from the U.S.A. a few years ago. Today, with nobody worrying, developments are brewing which may cause considerably more than worry.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Need Re-made State Department

WASHINGTON — In these times of swift and incalculable change the secretary of state is like a new householder who cannot put his house in order because he is so busy meeting visitors at the front door and returning their calls.

Christian A. Herter became secretary of state on April 22. Of the 110 days he has been in office he has been out of the country for 77 days, 70 in Geneva for the long and wearying conference on Berlin and German reunification.

He would like to get down to the urgent task of reorganizing and revitalizing the Department of State. Under his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, this was not so important, since Dulles was his own state department. While Herter has taken a first step in naming two veteran career officers, Robert D. Murphy and Livingston Merchant, to under-secretaryships this is only the smallest beginning.

The secretary has scarcely had time to talk with Murphy and Merchant about what their new responsibilities will be as under-secretaries for political affairs. And now Herter is off again, this time for Santiago, Chile, where he will participate for 10 days in a conference of Latin-American foreign ministers. He will get back just about in time to accompany President Eisenhower, as he almost inevitably must, on the President's trip to Bonn, London and Paris to meet western leaders.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch . . . the truth is that the State Department is understaffed, certainly on the top levels, overworked and underfinanced. Perhaps because the powers of government are divided between the two parties, perhaps because it is near the end of an administration with a fixation on economy and balancing the budget, a running battle in the cowboys-and-Indians style goes on between Congress and the department. And the Indians in Congress almost always win as the unarmed cowboys hide in the arroyo hoping they won't be noticed.

Some time ago an office of Soviet affairs was proposed to take care of the greatly expanded business with Soviet Russia. The pressure on the eastern European division, which takes in the whole Communist bloc, would thereby be relieved. But Congress knocked out of the Department's budget funds for the 18 new positions in such an office.

It may be possible to transfer people from other jobs to the new Soviet affairs office. But as one of the officials charged with the housekeeping task remarked wryly, "Then next year we'll be accused of using salaries positions contrary to the instructions of Congress."

☆ ☆ ☆

In the continuing struggle between congressional committees and the Department, Congress intervenes in small details. Passing on the $100,000,000 building and maintenance fund, individual congressmen demand changes in the design of buildings. While the Department got an additional $3,000,000 this year the cost of living abroad is rising and it is barely enough to stay even.

With tourism grown to fantastic proportions, the pressure on American consulates abroad has grown proportionately. Long lines wait outside U.S. consular offices in most capitals. Yet it is difficult or impossible to relieve this situation. In short, it is just as, though a large and expanding corporation were dominated by quarreling stockholders deeply distrustful of the management.

Murphy, one of America's three or four ablest diplomats, now becomes top political officer under Herter, with Merchant his deputy. Douglas Dillon is the No. 1 undersecretary, with economic affairs his special province, and the two career officers become No. 3 and No. 4 in the Department.

But Murphy has had to spend most of his time recently planning Khrushchev's trip in the United States. He has virtually no opportunity for considered study of the broad problems of policy that should be part of his job.

The same thing is true of the assistant secretaries, most of whom are career officers. Harassed by day-to-day demands, they spend long hours in meetings out of which too often the decisions reached represent the lowest common denominator of opinion. The policy planning staff that once had a vital part in pumping new ideas into the main stream of American foreign policy has deteriorated into a memorandum-writing bureau.

This is only to suggest in the barest outline what should be done if the State Department is to be revitalized. Perhaps in the 16 months left to him, Herter cannot bring it off. But sooner or later, if America is to live up to its responsibilities, someone must do it.

Need More Than Lip Service

Manifestly liberty is again on the decline in Cuba.

Whether impelled by Communist collaboration, the challenge of counter-revolution, plain failure or what-not, the Castro regime is rapidly heading away from democracy. As oppression returns, clearly the concerns of the United States mount.

The belated trip of Secretary of State Christian Herter to Chile where he will take part in the Inter-American Conference of Foreign Ministers cannot have an auspicious beginning in the light of Cuba's latest troubles.

The United States is not guilty of provoking the disorders in Latin America. Rather it is guilty of too great detachment. Its absorption with Communism at the expense of its diplomatic responsibilities elsewhere is now claiming its price.

Back of the Cuban collapse are the same forces that are plaguing the shaky democracies to the south, and fostering oppressive dictatorships. Cuba may aspire to the better democratic life, but it has neither the resources development nor the know-how to achieve it. Its erstwhile saviours bring but brief periods of hope. Then inadequacy restores the old oppressions. And so it is and so it will be until understanding and true co-operation such as was promised by our Good Neighbor policy provides the ingredients to break the unhappy cycle.

It will do no good for Secretary Herter to pay lip service to co-operation when he meets with the Latin American ministers. Nor will he gain anything by denouncing dictators. Unless he is prepared to deliver the sort of co-operations out of which enlightened and successful democracies are built he will leave the conference with the ground just as fertile as before for the alternatives, which are communism or its equally oppressive bedfellow, fascist tyranny.

The Answer Seems To Be Production

Today's advanced agriculture has simply outrun its market and there is no federal farm program that can be devised to solve the surplus problem. The best any program can hope to do is to play for time until natural forces and ingenuity at the farming level make the needed corrections.

This was the conclusion of the National Planning Association as the result of its study of agriculture. The association is a privately financed organization which addresses itself to planning in agriculture, business and other affairs.

Agriculture has been too efficient, too progressive for its own welfare. Its mechanical and technical improvements since 1950 have increased its production 23 per cent. Meantime, the nation's population grew only 15 per cent.

The association sees no valid hope for liquidating the mounting oversupplies by the traditional practices of expanding markets, or conversion of food and fiber to new uses. Indeed, it asserted that if the government unloaded its surplus storage and abandoned acreage controls farm prices would drop from $4 billion to $6 billion even if the government continued its present price support program.

Such a conclusion darkens the agriculture picture. While it may be overly pessimistic it contains enough of the ingredient of fact to warrant serious thought.

It is a tragic commentary that a society which has addressed its genius to a triumph over scarcity finds this recent breakthrough in food and an increasing number of other things lacking a developed philosophy for administering it beneficially. Certainly the long standing rules of scarcity will never administer plenty.

Until the nation catches up on its thinking, there seems no other alternative than to pitch agriculture into a battle of the survival of the fittest. The race for even greater production at the expense of the poorer producers is the indicated course.

Curious Turn Of Events

The nation's investors must surely be an optimistic lot but perhaps not too well informed on the fundamentals of Communism. With the coming visit of President Eisenhower to Russia and Premier Khrushchev's return engagement with the U.S., stocks of major defense manufacturing companies have begun to slide.

The investors may not, but the politicians are viewing this as extremely premature. And well they might as the whole business of personal diplomacy seems to be glossing over one essential element—the dedication of Communism to world domination and its motivation through principles dimetrically opposed to those on which democracy are based.

It is not, from this, a foregone conclusion that the talks between Eisenhower and Khrushchev will be a failure but it can and should be known that this action is very much like the case of an immovable object and an irresistible force. There are basic elements of conflict inherent within both Communism and capitalism which cannot be reconciled. One or the other force will eventually have to make some alteration of its essential elements if the two are to live in harmony together in the world.

This, in simple terms, means that either capitalism or Communism will have to come to be something other than what it is today before peace in the world is in any way assured. The visits by Eisenhower and Khrushchev can by no stretch of the imagination be interpreted as meaning that either of the forces they represent has decided to alter its fundamentals.

Until such a decision has been reached, the best that can be hoped for is a forestalling of disaster or a cooling-off period. The people of the United States, so long as Communism persists in pursuing the goals it has established for itself, should never let themselves think that co-existence offers a peaceful means of escape from the current conflict of ideologies.

For at best, it is a Red device which would be used by the Kremlin only until something better could be achieved. When the situation is viewed in the light of realism, the clouds of armament show with utsigns of dissipating. With the exchange of visits, the horizon, when viewed with utmost optimism, only shades from black to dark gray.

Rayburn Breaks With Halleck

WASHINGTON—The House struggle over the labor bill is the first open duel between Speaker Sam Rayburn and Representative Charles Halleck, the aggressive Hoosier who last January achieved his long-held ambition to displace the veteran Joe Martin as leader of the House Republicans.

Halleck has chosen the issue and forced the pace with an assist from President Eisenhower. The outcome is in doubt, but one result is certain: things in the House will never be quite the same again, for this war is personal.

The speaker, who likes nearly everybody, or at least has a vast tolerance for human frailty, does not like Halleck. Halleck, who always plays for keeps and likes only a chosen few, does not like the speaker.

In all other respects, the contest is beset with confused alarms and divided loyalties. Roughly speaking, the tactical position is that Rayburn is leading the forces of moderate liberalism with some defections from the South, while Halleck heads a conservative coalition with some defections from liberal Republicans.

Yet this is too simple a description for the tides now sweeping through a chamber long accustomed to the relatively placid course maintained when the two old friends, Rayburn and Martin, alternated in the speakership and hunted together for the legislative middle ground.

Nor is it a contest of youth and age. Rayburn defiantly proclaims his birth date — January 6, 1882 — in the congressional directory and boasts of his many longevity records. But Halleck is 59, having arrived in the House in 1935 and being compelled thereby to outlive the New and Fair Deals in order to occupy his present eminence.

Rayburn is in some respects liberal but often has been more conservative than his president or his party. Halleck's heart belongs to the conservatives, but he adjusted himself readily to modern Republicanism when it was the Eisenhower fashion.

But Halleck's state is famous for playing politics in both parties, with a difference. Part of that difference is that the knives are seldom sheathed and politics is a business. It was an open secret for years that the new leader chafed under the easy-going Martin dispensation and regarded the Rayburn-Martin way as a downright felony.

His pre-session nose counts never yielded him quite a safe majority, however, while the President never could bring himself to sanction a Martin-Halleck test of strength. But last January Halleck's patient cultivation of the White House staff, plus Martin's illness and the shock of the 1958 returns, paid off. The President held aloof and Halleck won the post he craved.

Halleck has chosen what he believes to be Rayburn's weakest point, which is the South's distrust of organized labor. He knows that Rayburn shares some of that distrust and that he has turned the knife in the wound by forcing Rayburn to lead a last-ditch fight for the alternative bill labor prefers though does not really want.

Rayburn sees through all this, of course. He has been stirred to the point of abandoning his traditional dislike for television and has spoken for the House against what he regards as the President's encroachments against the legislative power on the labor issue.

It is, in fact, a rare occurrence for the President to enter the legislative battle by pre-judging a bill before amendments to it can be offered in floor debate. The House grapevine says Halleck insisted upon the Eisenhower telecast and that he—not Secretary of Labor James Mitchell—drafted it.

Scorns Lincoln

Utica, Neb.

I would like to express a few thoughts that enter my (so-called) brain once in a while.

Why is it that Lincoln or the people therein think it's such a grand place to live? I wouldn't live there if they would offer me a house free. "Free" — did anybody ever get anything free in that town? Hardly! You have to pay two or three prices for everything and they all act as if they're doing you a big favor in waiting on you. Everybody wears a poker face and acts as if it would crack his face to smile.

What do they do with their money? Your guess is as good as mine, but I'll bet it doesn't go for charity. They have over a hundred churches. Fine! But what do they preach there? Three-fourths of them are afraid to preach the truth — just what their congregations want to hear, that's all. Poor Pollyanna preachers — they're there for their salaries, of course. And you have to be dressed in the latest fashion or you're a nobody. That's what most people go to church for.

They're not there to save souls. Oh, no, they don't want any old sinners sneaking into their fine churches. They are there to accommodate their own little clique.

Yes, and what about the fine policemen some people brag about? Where were they in January of 1958 when all those murders were being committed? And where were they on the night that little girl was so brutally abducted from her home? Don't they ever go into the residential districts to see if prowlers or burglars are around?

Inconsistency

Lincoln, Neb.

With the resignation of Mrs. VerMaas, assistant city attorney, the city will again train a law student at the taxpayers' expense. A check of the long list of this position will show a two-year average.

Our legal department, along with our police department, are our city's vital organs. Being penny-wise and pound-foolish is costing the city its economic efficiency.

At the drop of a hat, $8 million is considered and had without the vote of the people for a new airport. "Never have so many people been taxed so much for the benefit of so few." This is a twist of Winston Churchill's statement in regard to England's Spitfire pilots, "Never have so many owed so much to so few." I think most of us in Lincoln feel the same about our police department.

Most of the same group that fought the vote for a municipal parking lot, crying "free enterprise," now want the taxpayers to build them facilities to fly and store their aircraft. Consistency, where art thou?

There is very little doubt that our eight-year-old airport does need expanding.

Torn Flag

Lincoln, Neb.

Recently I read about some drunk who knocked down a flagpole in one of the small towns and tore the flag. He's to be brought to trial on this matter soon, and I'm glad to say that for once our law-enforcement people are doing the right thing in seeing that he is properly punished for such a desecration of the very symbol of this free and wonderful country of ours.

And the man who tore the flag was a veteran too. All the more shame and criticism should be heaped upon him because he is. If anyone should have respect and love for Old Glory and all that it means to us, it should be those who marched proudly under it in the service of their country. They were the ones who fought to preserve it and everything behind it. One of the most famous pictures of all-time was the valiant Marines keeping those colors afloat on the bloody heights of Iwo Jima. And many of these veterans saw their buddies coming home with these brave colors draped over them, or laid to rest in cemeteries on foreign soil.

How could a veteran have anything but the most cherished reverence for our flag?

Too Early

North Loup, Neb.

Mr. Boyle is trying hard to select the candidates for various state offices. Kennedy is a good man, but it is too early to name a preference. Let's wait until all the hats are in the ring and then remember that the voters will name someone favorable to farmers and labor. By dictatorial methods, he could defeat the Democrats. Remember, we are Democrats.

The Demo Wagon

Lincoln, Neb.

One of the best things the airport authorities could do would be to forget about having an airport here in Lincoln. The whole town would be taxed for it and just a few on O Street could afford a trip by air. I say, throw it in the scrap pile and think about something for the laboring man.

Let's get busy and try to bring some big industry into Lincoln. If we don't, the boys on O Street will be busted and there will be a bunch of barefooted working people leaving Lincoln.

Let's get off the GOP band-wagon and get back on the Demo wagon. The Demos are the party that think of all the people, and not just the rich.

Two University of Nebraska graduates, Dorothy M. Schidler of Beatrice and Norman L. Weed of Lincoln, have been revealed as co-winners of the John E. Miller graduate fellowship in business administration for the coming year.

The $1,000 grant is awarded annually to the outstanding senior or seniors in the College of Business Administration who desire to do graduate study in the field.

Miss Schidler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schidler, received her bachelor of science degree in business administration from the University with high distinction in June. She plans to do graduate work at the University beginning in September.

As an undergraduate, she served as president of two national business administration societies, Phi Chi Theta and Beta Gamma Sigma.

Demos Will Try To Override Housing Bill Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats decided Tuesday to try to override President Eisenhower's veto of the housing bill he denounced as inflationary and extravagant.

The decision, a surprise one, was taken in the Banking Committee which voted 8-7 to reverse last week's recommendation by its Housing subcommittee not to make the the effort.

All 8 senators swinging the decision were Democrats, and the party's Senate leader, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, announced the vote will be brought up for a vote as soon as a full Senate can be assembled. That may be Wednesday.

The Senate vote on whether to override is to come Wednesday. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, won agreement to convene an hour earlier than usual.

Johnson said the Senate will be kept into session late into the night, if necessary, to get a vote.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, predicted that the result will sustain the President's veto.

What reversed the subcommittee decision was a swing-over by Sens. John Sparkman (D-Ala) and J. William Fulbright (D-Ark). They had been in the majority in the 4-3 subcommittee recommendation not to buck the vote.

The announced reason for chaning their votes was that there has been no word from the administration whether it would accept the $1,050,000,000 bill the subcommittee has put together as a substitute for the $1,375,000,000 measure Eisenhower vetoed on July 7.

FAA Engineer Doubts Federal Aid For Dual-Runway Airport Plan

By Virgil Falloon

A Federal Aviation Agency district engineer has raised doubts concerning federal participation in the cost of a parallel runway at the Lincoln Air Force Base and a compromise plan between the two proposed airport plans before the Lincoln Airport Authority is being readied.

Rolland Harr, Authority executive director, said the compromise plan would leave commercial airlines at the Lincoln Air Force Base while a new airport—reduced in size and cost—would be built for general aviation at the proposed site east of the city.

It was estimated the general aviation airport would cost under $2 million — including a 5,000-by-100-foot runway, control tower, small administration building, and hangars under the compromise plan.

Commercial aviation facilities at the air base would be held to a $220,000 enlargement of municipal service aprons at the air base.

For Next Meeting

Harr said the compromise plan, now being developed by Harold Hoskins & Associates, engineering consultants to the Authority, was being prepared for the Authority's scheduled meeting next Monday.

The other proposed plans are a $4.1 million new municipal airport east of the city and a $3.7 million parallel runway and expanded municipal facilities adjacent to the air base.

In a recent meeting, Harr was informed by William B. Boucher, FAA district airport engineer, that indications were the FAA would not favor federal participation in the parallel runway plan.

Boucher pointed out the plan would have to go to the Federal Airport Use Panel (in Washington D.C.) and prior actions by the agency had not authorized federal funds for civil aviation use at military installations.

Boucher said many problems arising from joint civilian-military use was the reason for Federal Aviation Agency objections.

Others attending the meeting were Jack Obbink, state aeronautics director, and W. J. Kruescher, state airport engineer.

However, other sources indicated that a decision by the FAA office at Lincoln could be overruled by the FAA in Washington and the Airport Use Panel.

Boucher and Obbink indicated at the meeting that the compromise plan may qualify for FAA approval in the event it is submitted for state and federal participation.

Aug. 19 Deadline

The Airport Authority must select one of the 3 possible plans to be submitted by Aug. 19 to the State Aeronautics Commission for federal airport aid during the 1960 and 1961 fiscal years.

Meanwhile, Authority members will informally discuss airport plans with the City-County Planning Commission members at a luncheon set for Thursday noon.

The Authority requested the meeting at the suggestion of one of its members.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden said neither of the two airport sites conflict with the city's zoning regulations.

Strikers Stir Curiosity—LAFB Traffic Piles Up At Gate

Some 200 striking members of Laborers Local 1140 and sympathetic unions caused a brief traffic tieup at the two West entrances of Lincoln Air Force Base Tuesday morning, according to Sheriff Merle Karnopp.

The jam was at first thought by the sheriff's office to be caused by pacifists who have been picketing the Mead missile site.

Karnopp said that the strikers had caused no roadblock, but curious motorists had slowed traffic to a crawl during the morning rush hour at the base.

Union business representative Ellsworth Nielson told the Star that the laborers were striking for higher wages and better working conditions against Abel, Dobson-Robinson Construction Co. which has a joint contract for work on the base 600 unit Capehart housing project.

Nielson said he did not know how long the strike would last but that all union workers would be off the job Wednesday. He said negotiations began Tuesday afternoon with Abel, Dobson-Robinson.

'Sympathy'

Members of carpenter's, electrician's and plumber's unions have walked off the housing project job in sympathy and "only a handfull" of men were at work Tuesday afternoon, base spokesmen said.

Workers building an alert crew station and extending the overrun of the runway on the east side of the base were still on the job Tuesday afternoon.

Karnopp said that he and 3 deputies were called to the base by Air Police. They explained state law regarding picket lines to the strikers and straightened out the trafic jam.

Karnopp said he returned to the base later for a routine check and found the laborers conducting an orderly picket at all 3 entrances to the base.

A base spokesman said that the strikers had so far remained on civilian property and had not attempted to enter the base. Traffic was flowing freely in and out of the base Tuesday afternoon, he said.

Miss Tregoff Loses Round 1 In Finch Case

West Covina, Calif. (UPI) —The defense in Carole Tregoff's preliminary hearing lost a preliminary fight to prevent efforts by the prosecution to prove she was the "ammunition carrier" for Dr. R. Bernard Finch in the slaying of his wife.

But Judge William M. Martin advised Deputy District Attorney Fred Whichello evidence from Finch's preliminary hearing last month would be thrown out if he failed to link Miss Tregoff to the July 18 shooting of Barbara Finch.

Defense Attorney Robert Neeb, already on record as preparing an objection to use of Miss Tregoff's testimony in the Finch hearing, also tried to block Whichello's submission of evidence from that earlier proceeding. Whichello contended he was trying to show Miss Tregoff was an accomplice in the shooting and planned to "create a wall of bricks" with evidence and testimony from the Finch case.

Judge Martin pointed out in allowing certain evidence to be presented "at this time there is no evidence of an accomplice."

Russ Writers Touring U.S.

New York (UPI) — Eight prominent Russian writers and journalists arrived here by plane for a two-week tour of the eastern half of the nation.

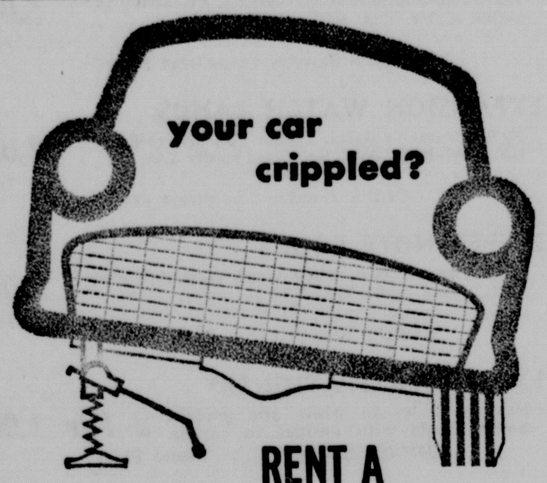

Mrs. T. G. Mamedov, cultural attache to the Soviet embassy in Washington, said the group was strictly in the tourist classification.

"The writing profession in the Soviet Union is a well-paid one, with a fixed fee for everything one does," she said. "So these men can afford such a visit as this."

Nebraska Trio Protests Pan American Road Travel Warning

By Mario Rosenthal

San Salvador, El Salvador (AP)—Three bearded young Nebraskans have driven their 1947 second-hand panel truck across the Guatemalan frontier into El Salvador to protest a recommendation against travel over the Pan American Highway beyond Mexico City.

Robert Shockley, 27, of Paxton, Clifford H. Peters, 25, of Wakefield, and "Butch" Wightman, 20, of Wayne, said they thought the American Automobile Assn. report needed investigation because "it was bad for good relations."

"This burned us up," Shockley said.

The AAA report called travel between Mexico City and Panama a nightmare of broken springs, rivers without bridges and extremely bad roads.

'Not A Single Flat'

Peters, who teaches in the Wynot, Neb., high school, said they didn't have a single flat tire, that authorities were helpful, that the route is worth seeing, and that "everyone is very friendly and wants to help."

He also said they had expected to find steaming jungles and snakes in Guatemala, but that the good looking girls took their minds off all else.

The trio made the trip from Wayne to the Guatemala-El Salvador frontier in one week, with two days stopover in Mexico City. So far the jaunt has cost $70.

Shockley, who teaches mathematics and geography at North Junior High School in Sioux City, Ia., said he wouldn't "recommend the trip for grandmother," but that anyone "who wants something just a little different and exciting will find this trip worth while."

Peters added that the heat wasn't half so bad as during the summer in the Cornhusker state.

They will continue their travels down to Costa Rica and plan on getting back home around Aug. 29.

Report Unchanged

The AAA offices ir New York said it stands by the original report, and that the trip is too rugged for most people.

Fremonter Hurt On Train Steps

Council Bluffs, Iowa (AP) — Glenn E. Conery, 55, Fremont, Neb., was injured Tuesday when he fell from the steps of a passenger train at the Chicago and North Western Railway depot.

He was taken to a hospital with head cuts and bruises.

Railway officials said Conery apparently missed the portable lower step in alighting from a passenger car.

$37,000 In Salary Raises Granted To Lancaster County Employes

By Del Harding

Salary raises for most county employes which total about $37,000 a year were approved by the County Board Tuesday.

Sixty-five employes of the County Highway Dept. received monthly raises ranging from $10 to $25 with the average increase about $11 a month.

Another 116 county employes, nearly all of whom are engaged in general office work, received monthly raises ranging from $5 to $55. The average increase was about $17 a month.

The 1959-60 county budget, which calls for a 4.5 mill levy compared with a 4.9 levy last year, was adopted last week but final action on salaries had been postponed until this week.

No 'Across Board'

County Board Chairman Rollin Bailey said the increases were made on an individual merit basis, with no "across the board" boosts. The raises take effect Sept. 1.

Previously announced $500 yearly boosts went to Dep. Co. Attys. Dale Fahrnbruch, Paul Douglas and William Blue. Fahrnbruch will receive $8,700, Douglas $8,000 and Blue $7,000 yearly.

Dep. County Clerk W. J. Wells was hiked from $4,800 to $5,520. The $720 yearly increase was the largest single raise given.

Chief Dep. Sheriff Les Hasson and Dep. Co. Engineer George Freeman were raised from $6,900 to $7,000.

Other Raises

Dep. Co. Assessor W. W. Schneider, Dep. Dist. Court Clerk Otis Nelson and Dep. Co. Treasurer Charles Currie were all raised from $5,520 to $5,640.

Dep. Reg. of Deeds Leslie Maahs was increased from $4,800 to $5,160 and County Court Clerk Harold Hamlin was boosted from $5,520 to $5,700.

Also approved was the previously announced new salary scale for deputy sheriffs. The new scale runs from $335 to $395, compared with the old range of $300 to $360.

Highest paid deputy, other than chief deputy Hasson, will be Del Zieman. Zieman, a FBI Police Academy graduate, will receive $390.

Bates Thinks He's Good Man For Plans Director

C. A. Bates of Lincoln, an unsuccessful candidate for the County Board earlier this year, appeared before the Board Tuesday and said he believed he should be appointed city-county planning director.

Bates said he believed the person who holds the post should live within the 3-mile fringe zone from the city limits and that he lives within this area.

Board Chairman Rollin Bailey said such appointments are made by the City Council with the approval of the Board.

Douglas Brogden now holds the planning post.

Hearing Aug. 25 On Beer-Bowling At Emerald Site

A public hearing was set for Aug. 25 by the County Board on a request by Merle E. Wilken and Santo V. Quattrocchi of Lincoln to operate a combination bowling alley and beer tavern in Emerald.

Wilken and Quattrocchi now operate a beer establishment there under the name of W and Q Enterprises.

They reportedly wish to remodel the Emerald dance hall into a bowling alley and transfer their beer license to that location.

County OKs O'Shea's Bid On 4 Trucks

The County Board Tuesday accepted a bid of $9,184 submitted by the O'Shea Rogers Motor Co. for the purchase of 4 two-ton trucks for the County Highway Dept.

The bid included a $1,600 allowance for 4 used trucks and was the only bid which the Board received for the new trucks, according to Board Chairman Rollin Bailey.

Terry Keeps Governor, Senator Doors Open

By Betty Person

Sen. Terry Carpenter Tuesday night opened the door a little wider to the possibility that he might seek the U.S. Senate seat now held by Republican Carl T. Curtis, but at the same time did not close the door on his possible candidacy for the governor's chair.

Stating on a television program that he has "no desire actually to run further for any office," the voluble Scottsbluff senator noted, however, there are some problems the people of his area think he could answer "with the vivid imagination they think I have."

Specific problems he cited were the lack of sufficient flood control programs in the western area and the lack of a realistic farm program.

In A Dilemma

Asked about the possibility that he might run for governor, Carpenter answered, "I have had nobody who demands that I run or that I don't," but then added that he's in a "dilemma" as to whether he has the "privilege of running away from problems (in state government) I've raised."

He left no doubt, however, that if he seeks any office, it will be as a GOP candidate.

Asked if he would run as a Democrat or Republican, Carpenter noted that he originally was a Republican, then a Democrat, and that he had reverted again to his current status as a Republican.

Too Old To Change

"I'm too old to change again," said the 59-year-old Carpenter, adding, "If I run for anything it will be as a Republican, and without, I'm sure, the sanction of the leadership of the Republican Party."

Such sanction would be withheld from him, Carpenter said, because he "would not conform" to the "qualities" expected the leadership of both political parties in their candidates "for either the governor or U.S. senator."

He classified the "qualities" of such candidates as those involved in following the policies of those who make substantial contributions to party coffers.

Questions

Carpenter was asked questions on a vareity of subjects.

Some of his answers:

—The tax study committee he headed was "successful beyond expectation" in that "we added $1 billion to the tax rolls in the actual value of both tangible and intangible property."

—"I still have it on my agenda for the future to determine through the Supreme Court the legality of Ak-Sar-Ben's tax-exempt status."

—People who think taxes would be reduced if the state adopted a sales or income tax are "living in a fool's paradise," because he questions whether property taxes would be reduced at all, but Nebraskans must be "realistic" enough to see that if we don't have a broadened tax base, property taxes will continue to spiral upward.

Dinner Guests At The Mansion

When Gov. and Mrs. Ralph Brooks entertained at a family dinner on Tuesday evening at the Governor's Mansion, the party honored Mrs. Brooks' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Day of Davenport, Ia., who are the house guests at the mansion.

Dinner places were arranged for nine, and if the affair followed the pattern of most family dinners it is safe to assume there also were nine conversations—all at one and the same time.

And we're guessing that the main topic for table talk was athletics. Jesse Day, you see, was football coach at Davenport High School for 25 years, and now is athletic director at the school. We might add that Mr. Day and his brother, William (Bill) Day put Beatrice High School football on the map when they both were members of the Beatrice team.

In the picture are (from the left, standing), Robert Day and young Miss Paula, Bill Day, Mrs. Brooks, Jesse Day and Mrs. Robert Day; and seated, Mrs. Bill Day, the Governor, and Mrs. Jesse Day.

Town Talk

—Have much to tell this morning, so we'll hurry along with news of potential guests, guests who have come—and gone — homecomers — and brides-elect.

* * *

—Just learned that Mr. and Mrs. Gerald K. Hall (Kay Kinsey) and their children, Peggy and John Gerald, came from Omaha last Sunday to celebrate Mrs. Hall's birthday anniversary at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey. Incidentally, this was young John's first visit in Lincoln.

* * *

—Heard, too, that Mr. and Mrs. William Cartmell (Susan Kimball) and their two children, Ricky and Barbara, will be arriving from Phoenix, Ariz., later this week for a visit with Mrs. Cartmell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kimball.

* * *

—The Lincoln alumnae of Pi Beta Phi will entertain at a morning coffee on Wednesday, Aug. 19, at the home of Mrs. Kent Morgan. The "hail and farewell" affair will honor newcomers as well as alumnae who will be leaving the city in the near future.

The 9:30 o'clock to noon coffee will honor newcomers, Mrs. Amos Henely, Mrs. Roger Van Haaften, Mrs. Maurice Sigler, Mrs. Richard Dam and Mrs. Tom Jones.

Alumnae who will be moving out of the city are Mrs. Malcolm Gray, whose new home will be in Topeka, Kan.; Mrs. C. D. Hildebrand, who with her family now resides in Denver; Mrs. John W. Drake and Mrs. George Billmeyer, both of whom will leave soon with their families to reside in Oklahoma City; Mrs. William Giles, who will leave this month with Lt. Giles and their son, Michael, for their new home in Cincinnati, O.; and Mrs. William Hoenig and Mrs. Charles Stork, who will return to their homes (the Hoenigs to Virginia; the Storks to Wisconsin) following their husbands' discharge from the Air Force.

* * *

—Back in town are Roger Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Anderson, and David Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, who returned a few days ago from two months travel in Europe.

The boys were members of a tour conducted by a member of Shattuck School, where the homecomers are students.

* * *

—Today is party day for Miss Barbara Beechner whose marriage to Charles H. Ziegenbein will take place in September. Miss Beechner will be complimented by Mrs. E. V. Mulligan who has invited 14 guests for a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon at her home. The bride-elect will be presented with both a hostess gift and a one-gift shower.

Dear Abby . . .

She's Old And Happy!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you do about a great-aunt who thinks the people on TV can see her?

She talks back to them and everything. Also before going in to watch Perry Como or Gary Moore (they're her favorites) she gets herself all fixed up for them.

I am having a terrible time trying to convince her that there is no use talking to those people. Can you help me? I am 12 and my great-aunt must be about 100.

ROSALIE

DEAR ROSALIE: If your great-aunt enjoys "talking to the people on TV, why spoil her fun? Live and let her live a little.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband has his own business and makes a very good living. Here is my problem. He resents paying doctor and dentist bills.

He pays all other bills on time, but he puts off the doctors and dentists until I am so ashamed I could die.

He handles all the money so I can't do a thing about it.

We see some of these professional men and their wives socially and I can't look them in the face knowing we have owed them for a year. Can you help me?

MRS. L.

DEAR MRS. L.: Your husband ought to sit down with some doctors and dentists and learn about the sacrifices and lean years that were a part of their training. Doctors and dentists have only their time and skill to sell, and they can't afford to give it away any more than a grocer can afford to give away groceries. What a pity the memory of a toothache or an ingrown toe nail is so fleeting.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am 44 years old and have just found God. I am married to a man who does not know God and does not want to seek Him. We have four children and they do not know God, nor do they seek Him because they are just like their father, but I pray for their salvation. I study with a Bible group five nights a week. I have to drive 60 miles as we do not live in the city. That means I must leave before supper. My husband tells me I am sinning to leave my family while I go to be in God's presence. Please tell me if I am sinning if I am going to serve the Lord?

M. K.

DEAR M.K.: We best serve the Lord by serving our fellow men. The Lord will understand if you perform your wifely and motherly duties first, and worship Him when it does not require that your family shift for themselves.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO R.B.: If one does not like another because of his race, color or creed, why not just leave him alone?

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Clubwomen Tour Sampan "City"

Aberdeen, an area near Kowloon on the mainland of China where fishermen and their families as well as refugees from Red China live out their entire lives on small junks and sampans.

EDITOR'S NOTE—In a letter to The Lincoln Star, Mrs. William H. Hasebroock of West Point describes the conditions under which Red China refugees live in the Hong Kong area.

We will leave here with a sad memory of the congestion, filth, and poverty which we would not have believed possible before our visit.

Yesterday, we stopped at Aberdeen, a small spot not more than a half-mile in length and about two blocks wide. It was jammed edge to edge with junks and sampans, sails down and all at rest. When the tide is high, the boats can go out to sea to fish, but the water had receded and the small craft were "parked," closer together than the cars at the State Fair. A person can walk from one boat to another without ever stepping on the ground, except in small runways between rows. Here were trickles of water, and the barefoot children paddled about in the slime and refuse from the houseboats.

When our bus stopped, the urchins swarmed up the bank and clamored for "ten cents" and some were daring enough to request "a dollar." These are Hong Kong money terms and not of the same value as our exchange. In Japan, one couldn't meet anyone without receiving a "thank you" and a "please." In Hong Kong, appreciation is readily expressed in the shops and restaurants but never by the beggars or folks seeking aid. It is a sorry lot, especially when you realize these children seem to be content with their existence. Of course it is because they have known no other way of life.

The disease in this area shocked us. Small children with large sores on their heads, few with any medication. The animals they own are kept on the decks of the houseboats and mingle freely with the family. We saw some water buffalo and a few oxen in use in the fields, chickens, ducks, and a rare horse or two. We were told these live with the family and the dung is used for fuel or the outside walls of homes.

Marketing is as primitive as other forms of living. Coming down the road we saw two women, one in front of the other, with their traditional black trouser attire, plus the usual large straw hat with a black, four-inch ruffle of material hanging down all the way around the extended brim. They were carrying a large bamboo wicker container on a heavy bamboo pole between them on their shoulders. Inside the container was a 200-pound, white pig being taken to market.

Helpful assistance is being given by American agencies. While at the refugee center, we saw a large truck drive up to distribute the daily offering of cool, clean milk to the youngsters. It was the Lutheran World Action service.

During our stay, the newspapers carried an article about the gift of surplus wheat for the refugees from the United States. Some decried the gift of wheat to a predominantly rice-eating people. However, when we visited with the president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Kowloon, he said the distribution of wheat is a widely-promoted project of his organization. Three noodle factories have been established and refugees are encouraged to enlarge their diet with foods other than rice. The president, a fine-looking young man, was himself a refugee some years ago and managed to raise himself above the squalor and poverty which surrounds the refugees.

Yes, Hong Kong is a beautiful territory for scenery if you can look high enough to miss the depths of despair in every nook and cranny.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Summer appetites have a way of lagging from time to time. If your wee one's appetite is on the wane, these suggestions may spur him on to lick the platter clean. (1) Let him get almost "begging" hungry. (2) Feed him in the coolest spot you can find. (3) You'll fare better with favorites. (4) Try rotating colors and kinds of food . . . a cinch with so many Gerber goodies to choose from.

•

Summer appetites almost always get a lift when the menu features Gerber Strained or Junior Fruits. And small wonder! For they have the singing colors and true-to-nature flavors that only the juiciest, sun-kissed fruits can provide. Like all Gerber Baby Foods, they're specially processed to preserve the utmost in vitamin values. All Gerber Fruits are extra refreshing when served slightly cool. Gerber Junior Fruits make a delightful topping for a toddler sundae or a Gerber Pudding.

Precautionary measure. Even though you think your baby or toddler is completely tanned at this late date, don't leave him exposed to this hot August sun for more than 20 or 30 minutes at a time. (Some of the worst burns come about through overconfidence.) P.S. Beware the slightly cloudy day. One is apt to expose baby longer, and forget that the sun still has some burning power, even through a haze.

•

Good news for toddlers—Cookies with added protein! Yes, the new Gerber Cookies are more than "sugar 'n spice." They provide twice as much protein as most other cookies because they contain protein-rich soy flour and nonfat dry milk. What's more, they're glazed with a delicate icing that's enriched with important B-vitamins. Think of it! Vitamins in the icing so they can't be lost in baking. Scrumptious as a snack or dessert. P.S. Older tots will like 'em too. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Salt-Wahoo Sliced $310,000 —$90,000 Left Pleases Officials

By George Moyer

A Senate-House conference committee Tuesday lopped $310,000 off a Senate-passed appropriation for Salt-Wahoo watershed conservation construction and planning.

The cut left $90,000 for planning on the Lincoln area project. The House had earlier passed a bill providing that amount.

State senator Otto Liebers, chairman of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed Assn., told The Star "we're fortunate to be in the bill at all."

"Naturally, we worked hard to get the full $400,000, but we're delighted to accept the $90,000 because then we will no longer be considered a new start."

Ike Wanted Nothing

President Eisenhower, in his budget message to Congress, had asked that no money be appropriated for new projects this year.

Robert Crosby, Lincoln counsel and secretary for the Salt-Wahoo district, said "the officers and members of the Salt-Wahoo district will be very happy with the $90,000."

"Of course, we would have been much happier with the $400,000 originally passed, but the $90,000 will give us a start."

Used For Planning

Crosby said the money will be used for planning. He said the district would attempt to get construction funds from Congress next year.

"If they had given us the larger amount, $150,000 could have been used for construction and we could have gotten the work started at an earlier date," Crosby said.

Axed completely from the public works money bill was a Senate-passed $1 million for the Ainsworth irrigation project.

Ben Clark, of Ainsworth, president of the Ainsworth irrigation project, dubbed the conference committee's cut "unrealistic."

"Few people realize how much this project is needed up here and how little it will hurt those who object to it," he said.

A decision on water rights for the project, which would divert water from Snake Creek in Cherry County, is pending before State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones.

Serious Drouth

"We have quite a serious drouth in this area. A lot of farmers are cutting their corn for silage, so you can see we need this project pretty badly," Clark said.

Clark said that the district would "most assuredly" try again next year for funds to continue the project.

"And we most assuredly will get them because I feel sure that the decision on the water will be in our favor," Clark said.

"We are much disappointed, but this is only a temporary delay. I am certain we would have gotten the money if we hadn't been held up in court," he added.

In other action, the conference committee approved:

—$350,000 for Gering and Mitchell Valley

—$2,338,000 for the Bostwick project

—$3 million for the Farwell project

—$4,601,035 for Frenchman-Cambridge

—$525,000 for the Red Willow Dam

—$104,000 for a power line from Fort Randall Dam to the Nebraska line.

(A Nebraska power company official says this appropriation will not be accepted—see story, page 32.)

Funds, not announced in total, were also approved for the Nebraska end of a power line from Cheyenne, Wyo. to Sidney. The line is a Reclamation Bureau project.

Russia Is Interesting And Terrifying—Houghton Furr

Russia and Red satellite nations behind the Iron Curtain are "interesting in one way, but terrifying in another way," according to Houghton Furr, Lincoln telephone executive just back from a European tour.

Furr, one of 6 Lincolnites touring European countries with businessmen from all over the country, said that telephone facilities in Russia "are good, to the extent that they exist."

"There are no telephone directories in Russia," Furr noted, "and only government people have their own telephones."

"On the calls we attempted to make to points outside Russia, we could hear quite well, but the people we were talking to could not hear us," he said.

"I don't know if they jammed our calls, or if connections were bad," Furr said.

The most lasting impression of the whole tour, Furr said, "are the horrible conditions under Communism—the lack of incentive, the lack of services and the poor consumer goods."

"The people know nothing about our country. The only things they know about America are those the government tells them," Furr continued.

"It was a wonderful trip," he added, "but I don't ever want to go back."

Youth Committee Fund Drive 37%

A campaign for funds to support the governor's White House youth committee has reached the 37% mark.

J. Gordon Roberts, Omaha, committee treasurer, said Tuesday that $8,000 had been contributed.

The goal is $22,000.

The largest contribution reported, $2,000, came from Mutual of Omaha Insurance Company and its president V. J. Skutt.

The governor's committee is making a statewide survey of the needs of youth. A report will be submitted next March to the White House conference on children and youth.

Record Grappling Crowd Sees Bruiser Go Berserk

Professional wrestling continued to boom in Lincoln Tuesday night as the loudest noise on promoter Jack Pesek's Pershing Municipal Auditorium card was supplied by former world champion Dick The Bruiser in the 3rd fall of the main event.

With some 3,700 fans roaring in amazement, The Bruiser blew his stack completely and wound up losing to the Jap meanie, Mitsu Arakawa.

Tuesday's crowd — 3,536 paid — was the largest wrestling turnout in Lincoln history and the whopping mass of fans saw The Bruiser at his beserk best, or worst, depending on the viewpoint.

After splitting the first two falls, Dick had Arakawa staggering outside the ring via some of the latter's own salt in the eye routine.

Tosh In Act

At that point Tosh Togo, acting as a second for his oriental buddy, climbed on the ring apron and planted a Japanese sandal squarely on the top of Bruiser's head.

That triggered the recently deposed world champion into a blind rage and he quickly confiscated the sandal. First he kayoed Tosh, then flattened Arakawa, but he didn't stop there.

Next to drop from a sandal clout was referee Tom Novak —an act which ultimately cost Dick the disqualification. But before order was restored, Bruiser had grappled with Pesek, trying to stop the riots, tossed the promoter through the ropes and then belted his own second Ernie Dusek.

Police officers, with the aid of 3 other men, finally subdued The Bruiser who roared into the crowd and dragged the 249-pounder to the dressing room.

As a sideline there was a balcony fight between a couple of fans, Arakawa lost one of his prize sandals—the pesky footwear that started the fireworks—and a police officer almost threw Pesek out of the Auditorium when the promoter, in civilian clothes, tried to halt The Bruiser.

Mitsu took the first fall in 10 minutes after Dick took time out to rough up Tosh outside the ring and got chopped down from behind. The Bruiser evened it in 3:10 of the second by swinging Arakawa off the ropes, applying some knee drops to the neck and finishing him with a body press.

Ernie Has Help

Ernie Dusek, subbing for Thor Hagen, took a pair of falls from Togo in the semi, getting the clincher by belting the Jap while referee Novak pinned his arms.

In the opener, Cowboy Bradley used a Boston crab to dispose of Tiny Rose in 17:22 and Lorraine Johnson beat Judy Glover in 21 minutes of the gals' special.

Gross gate was $3,580.50. The next grabble card will be Sept. 8.

Return Match Slated Tonight

Montreal (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore Tuesday ruled as a 3-1 favorite to repel again the challenge of crude, powerful Yvon Durelle of Canada in their 15-round return title fight at the Forum tonight.

The old master from San Diego was favored at the same odds last Dec. 10 when he had a narrow brush with disaster in his spectacular, 8-knockdown fight with Durelle in the same arena.

Archie, now 42, hit the deck 4 times, thrice in the first round and then rallied to knock out his dangerous foe in 49 seconds of the 11th round. The 29-year-old Canadian from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., also was floored 4 times.

The thriller was named the "fight of the year."

It was telecast in the United States and Canada. This time the fight will be telecast only in the U.S. (ABC network) starting at 8 p.m. (CST). There will be a radio broadcast to the maritime provinces of Canada.

Although the return clash was postponed twice, slowing down the advance ticket sale, promoter Eddie Quinn said he hoped for a near capacity crowd of 15,000 and a gross gate of $250,000.

Less optimistic observers believed the show would lure 12,000 fans and approximately $160,000.

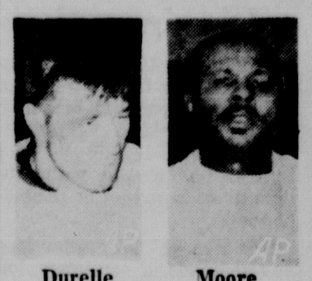

Even the lower figure would set a Canadian record. Moore and Canadian James J. Parker drew $148,500 at Toronto July 25, 1956.

For his 8th title defense, Archie has beer guaranteed 175,000. Of that sum $100,000 will come from the television money paid by National Boxing Enterprises of Chicago. Durelle has been guaranteed $15,000. The Canadian and British Empire champion also has a chance to get more of the combined TV money ($100,000) and Gate after Moore's $175,000 has been taken out.

Their first fight was attended by 8,484 fans who braves sub-zero weather and paid $89,940. Besides the bitter cold, the gate was hurt by Montreal reception of the television from a border U.S. station. Quinn said that station has been blacked out for the return.

Soo Hurler Raps Chiefs

Lincoln Star Special

Sioux City, Ia.—Sioux City lefthander Bud Blemker spun a 7-hitter and batted in the winning runs here Tuesday night as the second-place Three-I League Soos dumped Lincoln's Chiefs 4-2.

Blemker, a mid-season addition to the Soos from Shreveport of the Southern Association, won his 7th straight decision on the mound although he had to have help from Gordon Nevers in the 9th.

It was also Blemker who, after two were down in the 8th inning, swatted a double down the left field line to score Jerry Sheehan and Norm Shill with the runs that fortified a 4-1 Sioux City lead.

Shill Is Passed

Blemker, a .400-plus batsman both at Georgia Teach last spring and with the Soos this summer, came to bat after Shill had purposely been passed.

Lincoln's loser was righthander Ron Teunis, who benefitted from sloppy Sioux City base-running in the early innings to go the distance.

The Soos reached the Chief hurler for two walks, a single and a double in the leadoff frame but failed to score when Virgil Bernhardt and Tom McDonald missed connections and both wound up on second base.

The pattern was much the same the next inning when Blemker and Shill hauled into 3rd simultaneously.

Lincoln's Mike Hershberger finally broke the scoring ice in the 4th inning with a triple that scored teammate Don Bacon. The Soos knotted the count an inning later via Shill's leadoff home run, then took a 2-1 lead in the 6th when catcher Tony Cannizzo planted a Teunis fastball over the left field wall.

The tight duel remained intact until Blemker's two-bagger shoved the Soos out of reach in the 8th.

Joel Horlen (1-4) will face Soo righthander Dave Thies (2-1) in the second of the 3-game series here tonight.

Harold

(Editor's Note: Most track experts have the obvious disadvantage of being human. For the duration of the Fairgrounds Race Meeting, therefore, the Star sports staff has secured the services of a source closer to the truth. Happy Harold's selections will appear daily.)

Heard a couple of old mares gossiping today and they almost brought my sporting blood to a boil. One told the other that she'd heard my friend Ole Different once pulled an ice wagon. I was so mad I could have bit her behind.

Then here comes Clocker Charlie running into the barn waving a fistful of bills, and when he had calmed down enough to talk he announced that, sure enough, Ole Different had won Tuesday. Just like I said he would. Did those old mares look sheepish when they heard that. Ice wagon, haw!

Charlie was so enthused he almost forgot to get the winners for today. Almost, but not quite.

Here they are:

First race—1, Pat Weed; 2, Lights Boy; 3, Carrie Page.
Second race—1, Wee Pic; 2, Blazing Duke; 3, Phils Son.
Third race—1, Dream Time; 2, Zanjero; 3, Epamanda.

Air Hop To Hospital Impressive To Stars

Lincoln Star Special

Minneapolis, Minn.—The 57 members of the Nebraska high school All-Star football teams paid a 4-hour visit to the Shriners' Children's Hospital here Tuesday afternoon and down to a man they earned a genuine appreciation for the tasks that lie ahead of them in the first annual Shrine benefit game at Omaha Aug. 22.

The prep seniors, all members of the North and South All-Star teams in their home state, were flown in from Omaha, Neb. by charter airplane to visit with the 60 child patients in the hospital.

Many of the crippled and handicapped children were bed-ridden or in wheel chairs, but it took little time for the robust gridders to mingle with their less-fortunate admirers.

To melt the ice, each child was given a football with a player's name on it. That formed the introduction.

Afterward the patients found themselves highly-entertained by their guests for a good share of the afternoon.

Among the children were a boy and a girl from Nebraska —Sharon Cox of Omaha and Davey Jones of Cedar Bluffs.

In the players' company were coaches Skip Palrang, Jess Keifer, Vince Aldrich and Bill Hawkins of the South and Jerry Lee, Don Leahy, Art Ronhovde and Don Watchorn of the North.

Also in the group were R. C. (Bob) Russell, Blue Howell and Cliff Hunt of the Shrine Bowl committee.

Proceeds of the Shrine Bowl game, a first in Nebraska history, will go to the hospital here.

Optimists Oust Central Citians

...Win 5-2 In Legion Tourney

Lincoln Star Special

Columbus — The Lincoln Optimists got one-hit pitching from the combined efforts of Ron Peet, Jim Amerman and Keith Sieck to eliminate Central City in the state American Legion junior tournament with a 5-2 victory here Tuesday night.

Amerman picked up the victory, the Optimists against one loss in the double elimination tourney, after he took over for Peet—making only his second start of the year —in the 5th when Central City scored one of its two unearned runs. Sieck replaced Amerman in the 8th.

The Optimists, who never trailed, scored a solo tally in the first when Gary Thomas followed Earl Wright's single and Pet's walk with a single. A walk to Wright and singles by Thomas Jack Griffin and Bill Haas made it 3-0 in the 3rd.

After Central City scored in the 5th when Peet issued 5 walks and in the 7th when speedy Joe Geren walked, stole second and came home on an error, the Optimists wrapped it up with a two-run 7th.

Amerman walked and came around on singles by Owen Becker and Dennie Puelz. An infield out scored Becker.

The Optimists will play McCook tonight at 8:30 after Falls City and the Omaha Chiefs meet in a midget semifinal at 6 p.m. to determine Central City's foe in the midget finals Thursday.

Inaugural 'Cap To Midnight O.

...Fairgrounds Races Underway

By Paul LeBar

Midnight O., a familiar favorite on the State Fairgrounds' 5-furlong track, outdistanced a strong challenge by Laird Star in the $1500 Inaugural Handicap at the Lincoln track Tuesday to win the opening feature race of the 19-day season.

Omahan Norman Abdouch's 7-year-old dark bay gelding, trained by Jess Steelman, picked up his 4th win in 11 starts for the year by running the event in 1:11 2/5, only 2-10ths of a second over his own record for the Lincoln course 6 furlongs.

Laird Star, J. E. McFarland's chestnut, broke fast and owned a 1½-length lead at the first turn but was outrun by Midnight O. in the home stretch.

The winner, backed by 6-5 odds at post time, paid $4.60, $3.80 and $2.80.

Sky Riel ran 3rd in the field of 7 sprinters.

An opening day crowd of about 2,900 looked on under blistering-hot skies and watched Sea Champ and Indigo Star team for a $84.60 daily double.

Boyd Morris, the Fairgrounds' leading jockey last season, was aboard two winners on the fast track as was Ray Correa. Morris brought home Indigo Star in the second and Midnight O.

Correa was aboard Sea Champ in the first and Fullopep in the 3rd

Mor Orphan, Leo Gleason's 9-year-old light brown gelding, produced the biggest upset of the opening card with a victory in the mile-long 4th race.

Mor Orphan, off at 19-1 odds, paid $40.80, $15.60 and $9.

William Chaffin's Naughty Ike was the winner in the cofeature 6th race. Jockey Robert Dale was aboard the 5-year-old bay gelding.

Total bet for the first day was $145,002.

Feature race of today's card will be the 5½-furlong sweepstakes for Nebraska-bred two-year-olds. The race has a $1,500 purse.

STEELERS RIP FOES

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers struck for two quick touchdowns in the final period here Tuesday night and whipped the Cleveland Browns 34-20 in a National Football League exhibition game.

With the score knotted at 20-20 in the 4th period, Pittsburgh drove downfield from its own 20 to the 11 with fullback Larry Krutko contributing a 51-yard dash. Two plays later Ray Mathews bucked across the goal from 8 yards out.

Cleveland had barely gotten possession of the ball when Pittsburgh's Dick Lassie intercepted Jim Ninowski's pass and ran it 28 yards to the Cleveland one. With only 6 seconds remaining, Jet Smith stepped across from two yards out for the Steelers' final touchdown.

Rivers Provide Best Fishing In Nebraska

Nebraska's best fishing spots in the past week have been in the rivers—especially the Niobrara, Loup, Big Blue and Republican—according to the State Game Commission.

Whiskered catfish were biting on beef brains, chicken liver, minnows and worms.

The Spencer hydro dam on the Niobrara in Holt County was one of the best spots. Conservation officer Ed Greving checked 4 fishermen with a total of 19 catfish and 6 walleyes.

Top angler in the Big Blue in Saline County was Mrs. Gladys Wielage of Crete. She took 9 channel cats totaling 22 pounds.

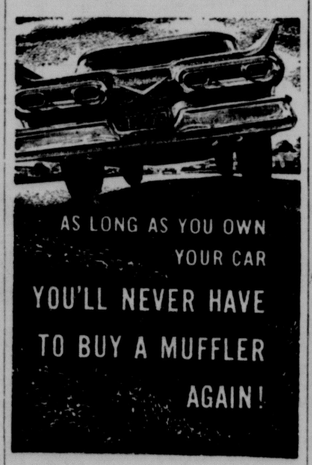

Fred J. Verseman of Geneva had the best catch in the Republican in Webster County with a 5½-pound yellow catfish. He used rod and reel and a minnow.

Best place for catfish in the Loup River, Platte County, was the tailrace.

Johnson Reservoir in Gosper County was excellent for white bass and fair for catfish. Conservation officer Burman Gyer checked one group of 4 who had 98 white bass among them, and a pair of fishermen who had 30 between them.

Other good catches were reported in the Big Blue in Seward County, carp; Elkhorn in Holt, carp; Missouri in Cedar, carp and drum, and Alexandria Lake in Jefferson, bullhead and bluegills.

Minor Attendance Up Half Million From '58

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — Baseball executives meeting here for a two-day confab heard an encouraging report Tuesday on minor league attendance.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, reported an increase of almost a half million over figures of a year ago.

The minor league boss made the report to farm club directors of all 16 major league teams and 9 minor league presidents.

Trautman, beaming with confidence, said "I feel we have turned the corner. This report should be a shock to the prophets of doom."

He said it marked the first time since 1949 that the minors had showed any kind of increase in attendance at this time of the year.

Total attendance for 20 leagues for the period ended July 31 was 7,681,149 compared to 7,185,472 for a like period in 1958.

The attendance was up in 12 leagues and down in 8 for a net increase of 495,677.

"I feel the increase is a sizable one and that we've been at the bottom of the barrel as long as we're going to be," Trautman said.

An intensive promotional campaign and more interest in baseball from the Little Leagues up were cited as major factors contributing to the increase.

"The increase reflects a greater interest in baseball and also reflects a greater prosperity," Trautman added.

The Class AA Southern Assn. showed the greatest decline in attendance — down 101,368 from a year ago. The Class A South Atlantic (Sally) League had the biggest boost —up 205,075.

The Three-I League shows an 11,989 increase from 296,074 to 308,063 while the Nebraska State League dropped from 46,546 to 42,718, a loss of 3,828. The American Association was up 174,913 with 1,061,311 compared to 886,398.

Yanks Score 6 In 5th To Rip Bosox

Boston (AP) — New York forged its 6th straight victory by beating Boston 8-5 Tuesday on a comic opera, 6-run inning. Doubles by Tony Kubek and Hector Lopez provided the Yankee punch while the Red Sox floundered.

Two errors, a boner of omission and a wild pitch by Boston enabled the Yankees to blow open what had been a tight 2-1 duel during the farcical 5th inning and achieve their longest winning streak of the season.

Righthander Duke Maas nevertheless needed 8th inning relief from Bobby Shantz as the Sox tried for a late reprieve.

While a Fenway Park crowd of 25,032 sat glumly, Boston rookie shortstop Jim Mahoney began the inning by fumbling Maas' grounder. Marv Throneberry doubled Maas to 3rd beyond Jackie Jensen's tumbling try for a catch in right center and both scored on Kubek's ground rule two bagger which hopped into the right field seats.

Mickey Mantle walked, Yogi Berra flied out and the Yankees turned what looked like schoolboy base running into a bonanza.

Elston Howard drove a single to left but Gene Stephens' quick throw to the plate sent Kubek scurrying back to 3rd just in time to meet Mantle coming the other way.

Mahoney, covering 3rd, took White's throw, missed a tag on Kubek, stepped on the base too late, then held the ball bewildered while Mantle legged it all the way back to second.

When Hahoney did throw to second, Kubek broke for the plate and Pete Runnels gunned a toss to White. Kubek bowled over White, sending Sammy and the ball flying as the other runners advanced.

When Maas struck out as the 10th batter, the crowd stood up for a volley of mock cheers.

Thomas Sets Sights On Olympics; Foot Okay

Boston (AP)—John Thomas, Boston University world champion high jumper, grounded by a foot injury since last March, returned to action Tuesday with his sights set on an Olympic gold medal.

The 18-year-old, 6 feet, 5¾ inch freshman said the zip is back in the stride which carried him to a world's indoor high jump record last February at Madison Square Garden.

Thomas was injured March 24 when his left foot was jammed in a moving elevator at Boston University where he was working on a cleaning detail during spring vacation. He suffered two lacerations on the top of his foot.

The modest Negro's spirits obviously soared after his physician pronounced him fit and ready to jump for new heights.

Dr. Chester W. Howe, B.U. associate professor of surgery who treated Thomas for 8 weeks at Massachusetts Memorial Hospital, said the youthful athlete's foot "is now completely healed and functionally normal."

"I feel fine," Thomas said, "I'll be all right as soon as I take off a little weight." He grinned and patted his stomach. He said he put on 10 pounds and now weighs 193.

Thomas jumped 7 feet, 1⅛ inches at the AAU championships at New York 3 weeks before he was injured.

White Sox Sign Hurler For 1960 Lincoln Club

New York (AP)—The Chicago White Sox have signed Mike J. Kuila, an 18-year-old pitcher, for the Lincoln Three-I League club next year.

Taylor, Dark Pokes Drop Dodgers, 5-4

Chicago (AP) — Tony Taylor and Al Dark, unaccustomed to hitting homers, came through in the clutch with 10th inning circuit blows Tuesday and gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Their shots to the left field stands off Clem Labine, the 4th Dodger hurlers, made manager Bob Scheffing's 44th birthday a bright one.

Dark's second homer of the season tied the score and Taylor's No. 4 blast won it. It was the Cubs first decision in 3 successive extra-inning affairs.

It looked as if Norm Larker, first base replacement for the injured Gil Hodges, would start the pennant-minded Dodgers 17-game road trip on the sunny side. Larker's No. 6 homer deadlocked the game in the 8th inning and his single in the 10th brought home Duke Snider, who had walked and taken second on a wild pitch.

This pushed the Dodgers ahead 4-3 and set up the Cubs heroics in their half of the 10th.

Ernie Banks pounded his 33rd homer in the 5th, scoring Jim Marshall ahead of him and giving the Cubs a 2-1 edge.

"It'll be the most imitated car in America next year!"

I've built this business over the last 10 years. My company has hauled all kinds of cars from the factories to dealers. It's given me a ringside seat on the whole automobile business.

When I read the newspaper reports about the new cars the automotive industry is planning to bring out next year, I say to myself—"Rambler already has what the others are merely talking about."

The way I see it, the industry giants have missed the boat. And it'll be a long time before they catch up with Rambler.

Do you know they're building more complete cars in the Rambler plant than in any other single auto factory in America? These straight line production methods mean lower costs to the car buyer. What's more, they mean a lot better quality control of materials and production methods than is possible with companies that have plants scattered all over the map.

TO COPY RAMBLER CONSTRUCTION

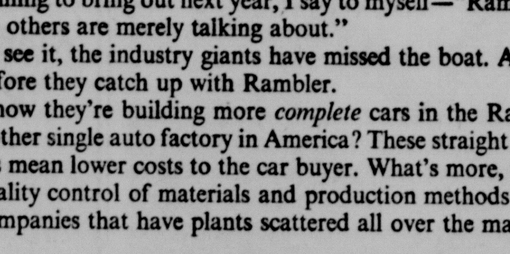

I see where the rest of the industry is going to copy Rambler's way of building cars when they rush out their smaller models.

Rambler calls it Single Unit Construction*. That means the body and frame are welded into one strong unit, like airplanes. You get a stronger, safer car . . . and you get more room with less bulk. No body bolt rattles or squeaks. It's the only way a real Compact* Car should be built.

Up until recently, the others have done it the old way . . . like the oxcart. They just made a separate body and frame, then bolted them together.

IN JET AIRCRAFT, STRUCTURAL MEMBERS AND FUSELAGE ARE ONE AND THE SAME.
IN RAMBLER, STRUCTURAL MEMBERS AND BODY ARE ONE AND THE SAME.

ORDINARY CONSTRUCTION USED BY OTHER CARS: BODY IS BOLTED ON SEPARATE FRAME LIKE THE OLD-FASHIONED WAGON.

Sure, Rambler has pointed the way for the others. But there's one big thing that can't be copied, and that's Rambler's 20 years of experience in building cars with Single Unit Construction. It stands to reason that nobody else is going to be able to get that "know how" overnight.

RAMBLER SIZE IMITATED

Reports out of Detroit say that the new crop of smaller cars will be about the same wheelbase as Rambler . . . give or take an inch or two. But just copying the wheelbase isn't going to make a real Compact Car.

What I want to know is—will the others be able to match Rambler's inside space? Will they be as easy to get in and out of? If the others can't beat Rambler's room and comfort with their oversized cars, how are they going to do it with smaller ones?

ALL OUT FOR GASOLINE ECONOMY

Everyone knows that Rambler is the economy leader. And economy is what most motorists want today. So, it's only natural that the others would try to imitate Rambler economy. But economy without accompanying good performance is not the answer.

You know and I know that Americans want good performance and quality of workmanship—the kind you get in Rambler—along with economy.

At least one of the small cars is planning to put the engine in the rear. Through the years, I've hauled a lot of the American Motors experimental cars from the factory to the Proving Grounds . . . watched them tested . . . talked to the engineers. So I know Rambler has weighed the pros and cons of all types of engines . . . liquid and air-cooled . . . all types of cylinder combinations. And, Rambler decided the engine belongs in front. The greater safety and better handling of the front-engine design is what convinced them.

CAN'T DUPLICATE RAMBLER'S BASIC EXCELLENCE

There's one thing the others can't even begin to imitate . . . Rambler's basic excellence. That's the all-round "balance" of quality, economy, room, comfort and performance that Rambler has.

What this means is that Rambler handles in city traffic like a small car . . . and out on the highway like a big car.

With ten years of experience in building Compact Cars, Rambler has found a way to offer record-breaking gasoline economy without sacrificing the kind of pep and performance that most American motorists demand.

Rambler found a way to put room enough for six big adults inside a car that out-maneuvers and outparks any other American car on the road.

Rambler found a way to offer such optional luxury comforts as Airliner Reclining Seats and still keep the price well below other American makes.

Yes—call it "balance" or what you will. Whatever the term, it's the proper combination of everything motorists want that is the secret of Rambler's basic excellence. And it's something no quick imitation can duplicate.

No wonder I'm hauling more than twice as many Ramblers from the factory this year. Fact is, in June Rambler was 3rd in sales in the U.S.A.

Sure, Rambler will be the most imitated car in America next year. But who wants an imitation when you can get the original?

More Americans Employed

WASHINGTON (AP) — More Americans had jobs in July than in any previous month. There were 67,594,000 employed.

The government's monthly job survey showed 252,000 more employed than in June, which also was a record. There are 2,145,000 more jobs than a year ago.

Unemployment declined by 238,000 from June to 3,744,000 in July. This is a decline of 1,550,000 from July 1958.

Improvement Noted

Seymour Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor for manpower, said in releasing the new data that they showed a continuing improvement in the over-all employment picture.

The seasonally adjusted ratio of workers idle but seeking jobs to the rest of the work force rose in July to 5.1 per cent from 4.9 in June. The long-term unemployed—those idle 15 weeks or longer—dropped by 110,000 in July to 820,000. This is less than half the figure a year ago.

One sidelight to the new report is that unemployment among Negro workers is 11 per cent, or more than double the 4.5 idle rate among white workers.

The July employment increase came despite a more than seasonal decline in farm employment attributed to bad crop weather in many areas—primarily in the south.

Farm Jobs Down

Farm employment declined by 406,000 to 6,825,000. But non-farm employment reached a record 60,769,000, up 658,000 from June.

Many of the youngsters who flooded the labor market in June seeking temporary jobs during the summer vacation, found work in July. Unemployment in the 14 to 24 year age category dropped 364,000 over the month.

The factory workweek declined slightly to an average 40.4 hours. This is still over an hour longer than a year ago and represents the longest July work week since 1955.

Factory worker earnings declined about a dollar a week in July. But they average $6.59 more weekly than a year ago.

The July survey was taken in mid-month just as the nationwise steel strike got under way.

Sens. Dirksen And Johnson Discuss Possible Civil Rights Compromise

Washington (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) disclosed he has discussed with Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas the framework of a possible compromise bill on civil rights.

Dirksen, the Senate GOP leader, made plain they hope to escape running afoul of a filibuster by Southern foes and yet satisfy all but the most demanding advocates of a new civil rights law.

He indicated he felt that the maximum that could be included in a bill without running into all-out Southern resistance was this 4-point program:

The 4 Points

Extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, preservation of voting records, federal schooling for children of service men in areas where public schools are closed to avoid desegregation, and federal financial and technical aid to assist states in the transition to school integration.

Johnson previously has listed all but the last point in outlining the type of civil rights measure that Congress might pass at this session.

He also has said that provision might be made, as he proposed in a bill last January, for a federal conciliation service to assist in mediating racial disputes.

Dirksen said, however, that there was no discussion of such a provision in his talks with Johnson.

Weekly Wrangle

The Senate Judiciary Committee has wrangled at its last 4 weekly meetings over civil rights legislation, and some members have indicated they are despairing of getting a bill out of committee.

Another meeting has been called for Friday and Dirksen, a member of the committee, said he hoped a bill could be voted on then.

But, in response to questions, he said it would be "sheer good luck" to get a vote then unless Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss) and other Southern senators on the committee give ground.

Dirksen said that if civil rights legislation continued to be stalled in the committee, he would support a move to take it away from the committee "if it appeared that was the right thing to do." He indicated, however, that he was doubtful it would succeed.

Possibly As a Rider

He also said he has given consideration to offering the administration's civil rights proposals as a rider to other legislation called up in the Senate, but he added he did not regard this as "the happiest legislative device."

Dirksen said that at the latest meeting of GOP legislative leaders with President Eisenhower there was mixed belief by House members as to whether the House will pass a civil rights bill this year.

Two years ago, when civil rights measures were bottled up in the Senate Judiciary Committee, the Senate bypassed the committee by acting directly on a bill passed by the House.

The House Judiciary Committee has approved a bill this year that has been stripped of features most objectionable to Southerners, but no time has been set for bringing it up in the House.

Kansan Facing Homicide Count

Minden, Neb. (AP)—Kearney County Attorney William Meier has filed a charge of motor vehicle homicide against Glenn L. Dobson of Kansas City, Kan., in the death of an Alma woman last Saturday night.

Dobson is being held in jail at Minden.

Dobson was the driver of a car that was in collision with one driven by Phoebe A. Applebee of Alma at the intersection of a county road and State 44 nine miles south of Kearney.

2 Pen Inmates Walk From Job

Two State Penitentiary inmates, both serving terms from Douglas County, walked away from a utility work detail Tuesday afternoon.

Prison officials said that the two, who were working at the west farm, were first discovered missing at 2:30 p.m.

The men are Richard Foley, white male, 33 years old, who is serving a 3-year term for forgery; and Charles H. Lawson, white male, 28 years old, who is serving a 3-4 year term for burglary.

Russian Expert Calls U.S. Abstract Art Ugly

Moscow (AP)—A member of the Soviet Academy of Arts Tuesday blasted the abstract art at the American exhibition as an ugly grimace in esthetics.

Dr. V. Kemenov said the abstract paintings and sculptures are "startling in their ugliness and unbelievable tastelessness." For good reasons, he said, Soviet spectators refuse to regard them as works of art.

Keminov devoted an entire page in the newspaper Soviet culture to the U.S. art show. He said he found most of it deeply disappointing. He complained the show includes too few works by realistic leftist American painters.

Public Works Funds Voted

Washington (UPI)—House-Senate conferees Tuesday approved a billion dollar-plus appropriations bill providing funds for public works construction programs in the fiscal year that started July 1.

Despite the Eisenhower administration's "no new starts" edict, the conference committee voted to provide money to begin work on nearly 90 new projects.

Eastern Corn, Milo Prospects Good; Rainfall Needed In Central And West

Dryland corn and milo held their promising outlook in eastern counties where soil moisture was adequate.

But prospects declined in the central and western parts of the state last week, government crop observers said.

The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics, in its weekly crop report, said, "Rains in the northeastern part of the state were most beneficial and timely for the corn crop which has responded by marking marked progress."

The division noted that recent moderate temperatures were favorable during the critical stages of tasseling and silking.

"Other eastern areas and scattered localities in the central part of the state also got welcome relief," the statisticians said. "Though corn was flattened by heavy rains and wind in some places, it was recovering in most cases."

Progress of the dryland crop from Gage County west to the Wyoming and Colorado boundaries was slowed by continued lack of rain. Some corn in the south central and southwestern counties began to "fire" and "curling" became more widespread as moisture reserves were increasingly depleted.

"The whole area needs immediate relief to prevent further deterioration," the division said.

Other comment:

—By last Saturday about 85% of the corn was tasseled. This is about on schedule. More than 90% of the irrigated crop was tasseled.

—Most late corn is in the southeast and some of it has an outside chance of getting nipped by frost.

—About three-fifths of the sorghum crop was headded, compared with about 55% at the same time a year ago.

—Irrigated corn and sorghum continued making splendid progress.

—The wild hay harvest has entered its final stages. The third cutting of Alfalfa was about 25% completed.

—Soybeans were in good condition and irrigated crops in the panhandle made excellent progress, but there were some reports of local water shortages.

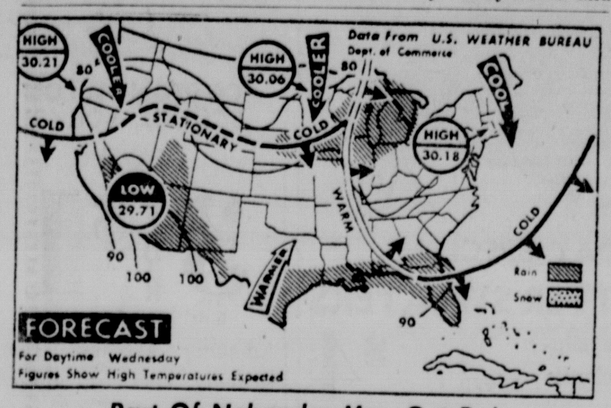

—The week was generally favorable for livestock.

Rainfall during the past week included over the state included:

	East
Grand Island	.92	Norfolk	33
Lincoln	.73	Omaha	1.77
	Central
Burwell	.23	Valentine	.68
North Platte	.63
	West
Chadron	.21	Sidney	.27
Imperial	.22

Rainfall by sections from the beginning of the growing season on April 1 as compared to the longtime average includes:

Southeast—17.19 inches (1959); 15.24 inches (average).
Northwest—9.75; 10.05.
North Central—11.26; 11.67.
Northeast—17.40; 13.54.
Central—12.19; 12.74.
East Central—18.08; 14.23.
Southwest—10.38; 11.05.
South Central—13.81; 12.96.

Part Of Nebraska May Get Rain

Scattered showers or thundershowers are expected Wednesday in the gulf coastal area, much of the Great Lakes, Iowa, east central Nebraska, southern portions of the Rockies and the Plateau region as well as Utah and the mountainous and interior regions of southern California. It will be warmer over most of the eastern states and cooler in the northern Plains and upper Mississippi Valley. Little temperature change is expected elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Grocer Bound Over On 2nd Degree Arson

Grand Island, Neb. (AP) — Herman Jungclaus, Grand Island grocer, was bound over to District Court Tuesday on a charge of second degree arson.

County Judge Charles Bossert set bond at $5,000 following the preliminary hearing.

Jungclaus is charged in connection with a fire which destroyed the Jones IGA Store in Doniphan May 9.

Arson charges also have been filed against Howard Jones, owner of the store, and Hubert Evers, an employe.

Evers testified Tuesday he drove with Jungclaus to Doniphan in the early hours of the morning, that Jungclaus went into the basement of the grocery store. Somewhat later, Evers said, Jungclaus returned to the basement and came running out badly burned.

He said he took the grocer to a hospital.

Northern Gas Plans Drilling Project In Iowa

Omaha (AP)—Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, says it plans to drill about 30 shallow wells near Fort Dodge, Ia., where natural gas can be stored.

R. Dean Grimm, Northern's manager of gas supply, said the firm plans to drill in Webster, Wright, Humboldt and Hamilton counties.

What the company seeks, said Grimm, is a formation similar to a large inverted saucer into which gas can be pumped. The drilling will also determine whether there is oil or gas in the area. He said Northern has oil and gas leases on about 4,000 acres near Fort Dodge.

Northern has an underground storage field near Redfield, Ia.

Innocent Plea Made To Second Degree Murder

Gering, Neb. (AP) — Amos Clown Horse, 21, pleaded innocent on arraignment for second degree murder.

Clown Horse was charged in connection with the stabbing of Mrs. Lila Hamberger, 46, of Gering. A preliminary hearing was set for Aug. 18. Clown Horse is held without bail.

Clown Horse, Scottsbluff, was released from a Scottsbluff hospital Monday. He suffered a knife wound in an altercation preceding the stabbing.

Doane Enrollment May Dip Slightly

Lincoln-Star Special

Crete, Neb.—No enrollment increase is being anticipated at Doane College this fall.

A spokesman from the registrar's office said "By all pre-registration data, we should get around 320 students, but it's a little early to tell."

Last year's enrollment reached 325, Dean Daryl Williams said.

Slagles Observe 100th Anniversary

Beatrice, Neb. — Descendants of Christian Slagle marked the family's 100th year in Nebraska at their 30th annual reunion here.

Family members attended from California, Colorado, Wyoming, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska.

Handmade square nails from the original Slagle home at Hillsdale, an early settlement 16 miles northeast of Falls City, as well as pictures of the house and detailed genealogy charts were displayed.

Christian Slagle and his family crossed the Missouri River at what was later Brownville, Neb., on July 15, 1859.

Murder Hearing Gets Under Way

Ogallala, Neb. (AP)—A preliminary hearing for Arthur W. Hunnel, charged with murder in the slaying of his 34-year-old stepson, Earl Ernest Gibbs, was continued until Wednesday after 6 witnesses had been heard.

One of the witnesses, Chester Bishop, 54, became ill and was taken to the hospital for treatment of high blood pressure.

Most of Tuesday's session was devoted to testimony concerning statements attributed to Hunnel taken following the July 28 shooting.

Witnesses quoted Hunnel as saying that he had been "jumped" the preceding night by Gibbs and his wife.

He said he and Mrs. Hunnel were sitting in their living room on July 28 when Gibbs and his wife entered, the witnesses related. Hunnel was quoted as saying he ordered the Gibbs' to leave and fired a double barreled shotgun when Gibbs lunged at him.

Pepper Joins Staff Of Chamber At G.I.

Grand Island, Neb. (AP)—William B. Pepper has been named assistant manager of the Grand Island Chamber of Commerce. He succeds Robert Williamson, who resigned to become manager of the chamber at Atchison, Kan.

Pepper, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, has been employed by the Northwestern Public Service Co. in the accounting department.

Big Blue Group Re-Elects Jensen

Seward, Neb. — Hans O. Jensen of Aurora was re-elected chairman of the Big Blue River Watershed Planning Commission.

Other officers were renamed, too. They are L. Boyd Rist of Wymore, vice chairman; Ken Wortman of Aurora, secretary; and Levi Yost of Milford, treasurer.

Bruce Anderson of Polk reported that plans for a pilot watershed development in Polk County are progressing.

State Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City told of flood damage in the Wahoo area from recent heavy rains. Much of the loss could have been avoided had flood water retarding dams, planned for the area, been completed, he said.

J. P. Allen Dies; Ex-Oxford Banker

Oxford, Neb. — Funer services for John P. Allen Sr., for many years a banker here and at Trenton, Neb., will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Mitchell Funeral Home in Oxford.

Surviving are his wife, Vera; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Gunning of Holdrege; a son, John P. Jr. of Oxford; two sisters and 10 grandchildren.

Fourth Quarter Auto Output Near '55 Record

Detroit (AP)—Ward's Automotive Reports Tuesday estimated fourth quarter auto production at 1,926,000 passenger cars, very close to the record last quarter of 1955.

Special Fund To Help Juvenile Court In Providing Children Little Extras

Omaha (AP)—Sometimes little things—like a baseball mitt for a boy and a party dress for a girl—can do great things for children, juvenile Judge Lewrence Krell said Tuesday.

Up to now, Douglas County hasn't had a fund to buy the "little things" for children appearing in Juvenile Court. But Tuesday the court received a check for $250 from the Robert Wagner Memorial Foundation.

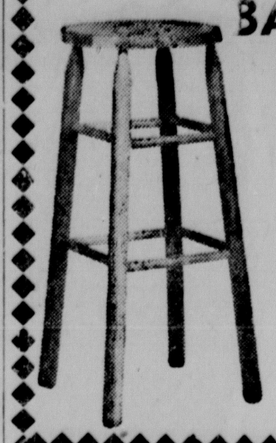

Justice Nathaniel Kaplan of the New York City Domestic Relations Court, acting as treasurer of the foundation, said the donation was sent to open a special fund with which the juvenile court can help children with little extras.

For example, Judge Krell said, the fund might provide the only birthday present a youngster gets.

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

One of the best things about Russia is the caviar.

If you can learn to say "ikra," you get a little pot of fresh, pearl-gray Caspian caviar.

The American tourist—there are 3000 here at this moment—finds little else. We see ing through them wander-GUM, the big department store on Red Square. Looking for the souvenirs they are accustomed to.

Not much. Sheep's-wool hats and a variety of d i m e store gadgets. The souvenir industry is not a serious business, I suspect. And this is a serious country.

☆ ☆ ☆

We drove out to the beaches on the Moscva river this morning. All over Moscow enormous apartment houses are going up. Hundreds of them.

Most of them are built up to the sixth or seventh floor. A crane hangs over each one like a cocked thumb and forefinger. And there isn't a single, solitary soul working on nine out of ten of these projects.

"We construct because of our housing shortage. There are so many people," said the guide-interpreter.

I thought, if there were so many people, why weren't they working?

The guide did not answer this. I am being critical. The Soviet press has been hammering at the American correspondents with Nixon. The guides read the papers in the morning. And spend the rest of the day hating us.

My guide is a girl from the Institute of Foreign Languages. She looks on me like a blind date that has turned out badly. As if she was afraid I was going to ask her to dance again.

☆ ☆ ☆

Foreigners get certain concessions. Today our car is stalled in Red Square. It was a Zim—the Russian equivalent of the Cadillac. As a matter of fact, it looks like a Cadillac and the dashboard is an exact copy of the 1941 Cadillac.

☆ ☆ ☆

As a matter of fact, what I did was go over by the Kremlin walls. It was hot as a Sheriff's pistol in Moscow. About 95 muggy degrees.

The driver was having no luck with the car which only sputtered feebly.

I thought it was a good chance to get in the shadow of the Kremlin. I have always envied people who wrote stories beginning: "In the shadow of the Kremlin . . ."

Do you know that the Kremlin has no shadow? What a letdown!

I think maybe it has a shadow late in the evening. But not during the day. In this northern latitude, the sun goes down about 10 at night. And gets up at 3 o'clock.

Consequently, we cannot sleep in the morning.

So I cannot write, "In the shadow of the Kremlin." And it is a bitter experience.

If you want to get in the shadow of anything in Red Square, you must stand under the lime trees in front of GUM. That is what I did. But it does not have the color—"In the shadow of GUM." No, it does not stand up. Blast!

☆ ☆ ☆

Some of the restaurants specializing in food from other Soviet Republics are excellent. I have had wonderful Chicken Kiev—the chicken wrapped around a lump of cold butter and roasted. The shashlik in Baku is great.

You can see the Bolshoi Ballet without getting on your knees to Sol Hurok.

You can bet 10 rubles at the Hippodrome on the Russian cavalry. Ski jump in winter from the Lenin hills. Buy a 3-ruble lottery ticket in the beautiful Moscow subways.

But it is a serious country. They wouldn't let Art Linkletter do a TV show over here. Know why? Because the title was: "People Are Funny."

State Says Caril Got Fair Trial

The state maintained in a brief filed in Supreme Court that despite a one dollar bet by a juror, Caril Ann Fugate received a fair murder trial.

The brief, filed by Atty. General C. S. Beck and Assistant Atty. General Cecil Brubaker, said the Lancaster County District Court was correct in finding that a juror was impartial "despite his censurable conduct in wagering as to the punishment which would be inflicted . . ."

Caril Ann was found guilty and sentenced to life in the Women's Reformatory at York for her part in the Jan. 27, 1958, murder of Robert Jensen, 17, Bennet. She was 15 years old then.

Her former boy friend, Charles Starkweather, 20, was executed at the Nebraska Penitentiary for his part in the murder.

'No Contradiction'

The state's brief noted there was no contradiction of the facts relating to the participation of Caril Ann in the robbery of Jensen.

Her defense was that she was forced to do this by Starkweather and that she participated in the robbery only because she was afraid not to.

The brief said her attorneys have "not seen fit to argue the facts of the matter, and with good cause, for the evidence of the willful participation of Caril Fugate with Charles Starkweather is overwhelming."

The brief contended that the wager of the $1 bet by a prospective juror, made two days before impanelling the jury, was not grounds for a new trial where the juror had no recollections of it during the trial and when the verdict was amply sustained by the evidence.

Party For Beatniks Abruptly Canceled

...They Said They'd Come

Hutchinson, Kan. (UPI)—Three Hutchinson high school senior girls who sent and later cancelled an invitation to West Coast "beatniks" to attend a party here were "awfully sorry" about the whole thing.

"We just wrote to them on the spur of the moment,' said one of the girls, 17-year-old Luetta Peters. "We never dreamed they'd even read the letter—much less accept."

Miss Peters and two friends wrote a letter to Lawrence Lipton, author and apparent leader of the Venice, Calif., beats, after reading in the newspaper here about the trouble Venice beatniks were having with property owners who objected to them and their activities.

Cats and Kittens

The letter said in part, "We read about your trouble with the Venice real estateniks. Since we're in sympathy with you, we are promoting your cause by staging a party in your behalf August 21 with 800 eager cats and kittens."

The girls said the party is an annual event which the high school seniors give for the sophomore class.

Talent Promised

The girls received a telegram from Lipton accepting their invitation and promising to bring a trio of musicians "for poetry and music program".

The girls said when they received Lipton's message, they became "scared they (the beatniks) would come." They sent a terse collect telegram saying the party was cancelled and "Don't come."

On receiving the telegram from the girls, Lipton said, "I didn't mind paying the $1.87 but we looked forward to this thing."

SEC. HERTER WARMLY GREETED IN SANTIAGO

Santiago, Chile (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter arrived Tuesday night for the 21-nation foreign ministers conference on the Caribbean crisis. A heavy guard was on hand to protect him against possible Communist violence.

Some 1,500 people turned out in a rain at the airport to welcome Herter aboard a jetliner from Washington for the conference opening Wednesday. He was expected to urge the other American states to agree to creation of an inter-American committee to keep peace in the tense Cuba-Dominican Republic area.

Sec. Herter

Heavily Guarded

There were no anti-Herter demonstrations at the airport. But police took no chances and the airport was heavily protected. In addition, mounted police guaded the U.S. Embassy.

The formal conference was to open in the Carerra Hotel overlooking the snow-capped Andes Mountains, and most observers expected bitter clashes between the Cuban delegation and the representatives of Dominican dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo.

Planned leftwing demonstrations against Trujillo and in favor of Cuba appeared to have lost some of their steam as a result of the decision by Premier Fidel Castro to stay behind in Havana and let Foreign Minister Raul Roa represent his country.

Districts Merge

Wayne, Neb.—Rural School District 20 was officially dissolved and merged with District 51 at a final hearing before Mrs. Gladys Porter, Wayne County superintendent.

ARMY WILL HAVE FEWER GI SERVANTS

Washington (AP)—The Army's new order reducing the number of officers' orderlies was described as nonsensical by a congressman — a retired colonel—who contends enlisted men are wrongfully used as servants.

Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn) said the order apparently keeps orderlies for generals, but ends the authority for such help in the field—"the one place where orderlies are clearly needed and justified."

The new regulation eliminates a provision which permitted one orderly for each commanding officer of a battalion, regiment or group. It now states "orderlies are authorized on the basis of one for each general officer only."

Kowalski commented that this "simply proves that all they are trying to do is make an impression by reducing numbers, while they still retain servants for generals."

Gas, Oil Leases Are Sold

The Nebraska Board of Educational Lands and Funds has sold gas and oil leases on 2,397 acres for $8,736 at prices from $1.25 to $6.25 an acre, Elmer H. Mahlin, secretary, reported Tuesday.

Buyers were:

Jack R. Wise of Denver, 477 acres in Cheyenne County, $2.55 an acre; $1,216.

Shell Oil Co., Denver, 640 acres in Cheyenne County, $6.25 an acre; $4,000.

The Texas Co., Denver, 640 acres in Dundy County, $4.25 an acre; $2,720.

The Ohio Oil Co., Casper, Wyo., 640 acres in Morrill County, $1.25 an acre; $800.

To Invest In Bonds

The commission also voted to invest $150,000 of permanent school funds in U.S. government bonds maturing Feb. 15, 1964, which will yield about 4.4 per cent, Mahlin said.

Also invested was $75,000 in retirement funds for judges in U.S. bonds maturing Nov. 15, 1960, yielding about 3.9 per ceent.

The board approved the 1959 valuation schedule of values for land appraised during 1959. The schedule will go into effect July 1, 1960, and will include minor changes in about a third of the state school land.

The law provides that rent charged to lessors be 6 per cent of valuation.

About a third of all school lands are re-appraised each year.

Last year the value of all school land for rental purposes was $30,748,400. This year it was set at $31,572,515, or an increase of about 2⅔ per cent, Mahlin said.

Senior Citizens Tax Exemption Status Protested

Omaha (AP)—An organization of business-building operators is protesting the tax-exempt status of the Omaha Education Assn. Senior Citizens Inc., 12-story apartment building.

James F. Green, attorney representing the business-building operators, charged that the Douglas County board in granting the tax exemption had committed an action "contrary to the laws of Nebraska."

Frank C. Heinisch, OEA chairman, said he was "satisfied they're terribly mistaken about this thing."

Air Force Fires Its Third Straight Atlas

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (UPI)—The Air Force fired its third straight Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile successfully Tuesday on a new timetable to ready the nation's first ICBM for military operation by next month.

Only 15 minutes after launching of the mighty 100-ton war rocket, the Air Force announced that preliminary flight data indicated the Atlas "apparently achieved most of its test objectives."

Usually reliable sources said Tuesday's firing paved the way for troops at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., the nation's first operational ICBM site, to launch an Atlas next month. Tuesday's Atlas was another prototype of the operational model ICBM which will be assigned to troops.

It was aimed at an impact area 5,000 miles down the Atlantic tracking range near Ascension Island. There was to be no attempt to recover the flat nose cone.

Red Battalions In Laos Use Bicycles To Move Supplies

Vientiane, Laos (AP)—Communist battalions are using bicycles to move arms and supplies into Sam Neua Province from the direction of North Viet Nam, a Laotian official said Tuesday.

Sisouk Na Champassak, secretary of state for information, said the bike battalions are using jungle paths and generally imitating tactics used by the Communist Viet Minh during the Indochinese war against the French.

He said the contingents were composed of rebellious tribesmen, former members of the Communist Pathet Lao movement and cadres trained in Hanoi, capital of North Viet Nam. Laotian women and children have been conscripted to help the operation, Sisouk added.

Reuther Is Turned Down By Probers

Washington (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee turned down Walter Reuther's demands that it admit the public to its investigations of his United Auto Workers Union.

In the secrecy of its police-guarded hearing room, the committee then started calling witnesses for questioning.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) announced he had fought in vain to have the hearing opened to the public.

Reliable sources said that only Kennedy and Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) voted for public hearings, with Vice Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) voting present and the other members, including Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) voting "No."

Platters Brought Into Court On A Morals Charge

Cincinnati (AP) — Four male members of the Platters, internationally known rock 'n' roll singing group, were brought into Police Court Tuesday to answer charges of aiding and abetting prostitution.

The 4 Negro singers were granted a jury trial Aug. 28.

They were arrested in a downtown hotel with 4 19-year-old girls—3 white and one Negro. The girls were charged with prostitution and they too were granted a jury trial Aug. 28.

The men and the girls used newspapers to hide their faces as they went to post bond of $2,000 each.

The Platters' attorney Ed Shott, said they were flying to Chicago this afternoon to make a recording. He said they would open an engagement at the Three Rivers Inn in Syracuse, N.Y., Friday and that they had a booking into the Palladium at London "in the near future."

The 4 are David Lynch Jr., 30, and Tony Williams, 31, both of Hollywood, Calif.; Herbert E. Reed, 31, of Los Angeles, and Irvin Robi, 26, of El Centro, Calif.

Lt. Carl Lind of the police vice squad said 3 of the 4 girls were nude when officers entered the room and the fourth was wearing only a slip. He said the men were wearing shorts.

Grain Market Bidding High

Chicago (AP) — Grain futures dealers squared themselves off Tuesday for what they hoped would be the most advantageous market position in the event the government's August crop report would be either bullish or bearish.

Along the way they bid most prices higher, some only very slightly, indicating there was general expectation that the crop forecasts would be at least slightly bullish.

Soybeans closed firm and rye strong. Other grains were within small fractions of previous closes in all contracts. Wheat was steadied somewhat on nearby months by a moderate volume of export business. Yugoslavia bought 350,000 bushels of hard wheat and Cyprus the same amount of red.

In addition, there were reports that several large baking concerns extended their flour bookings at mills another month or two.

Most interest in the crop report centered on soybeans on which the Department of Agriculture had not previously estimated the 1959 yield. In the July forecast it merely reported acreage planted to the crop.

After a thorough study of the July report, analysts said the figures then showed a possibility that oats, soybeans and rye could be in short supply during the coming crop year but growing conditions for soybeans especially have improved considerably since then.

Wheat closed ⅜ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, September $1.90-90¼; corn ¼ higher to lower, September $1.18⅞-19; oats unchanged to ½ higher, September new type contract 68¼; rye ⅝-2⅜ higher, September $1.32½-33; soybeans ⅜-1⅜ higher, September $2.16⅛-⅜.

N.Y. STOCKS RECOVER A ⅓ OF LOSS

New York (AP) — The stock market Tuesday recovered slightly more than a third of the losses sustained in Monday's sharp break which was the worst since last November. Trading was less vigorous.

An estimated two billion dollars of Monday's loss of $5,400,000,000 in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange was won back, based on the rise in The Associated Press average.

The overall gain was the best since July 21 but volume declined to 2,980,000 shares from Monday's 4,190,000, thus detracting somewhat from the significance of the recovery.

The winning back of about a third of losses sustained in a sharp correction fitted in with classic Wall Street theory based on the way the market has performed over the years. Brokers regarded it as a technical snapback and envisioned the probability of further consolidation moves in the future before it would become more clear which way the market will head.

Generally speaking, the stocks which have taken the worst losses made the best gains.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.28 to 658.07. Monday it fell 14.78 in the sharpest decline since Sept. 26, 1955 when it dropped 31.85 on news of President Eisenhower's heart attack.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.50 to $230.70, its best performance since it rose $1.80 on July 21. The industrials gained $2.30, the rails $1.70 and the utilities 20 cents.

Of 1,192 issues traded, 709 advanced and 288 declined. There were six new highs for the year and 23 new lows.

Fourteen of the 15 most active stocks advanced. One declined.

Corporate bonds edged higher as trading slackened. U.S. government bonds improved in quiet dealings.

Bonds sales totaled $6,450,000 par value compared with $8,460,000 Monday.

Industrial Use Of Ag Products Crash Program Discussed

By Betty Person

Plans for a crash program to develop industrial uses of agricultural products were discussed Tuesday at the initial meeting of the advisory committee which will direct use of the Nebraska Agricultural Products Research Fund set up by the 1959 Legislature.

Pearle Finigan, director of the Department of Agriculture and chairman of the 6-member committee, told the members he wants to see a "pilot plant, built and operated by private industry, processing farm products for industrial uses within 3 years."

He suggested that the committee consider using "at least one-half" of the revenue from the fund's one-tenth mill levy to "go into development and utilization projects, and the other half into research."

Joint Venture

Finigan suggested the committee investigate possibilities of a "joint venture with private enterprise on some type of research."

The one-tenth mill, to be levied for 6 years, is expected to produce $317,536 each biennium.

Finigan asked the committee to join him in seeking assistance from Nebraska's congressional delegation to hold up sale of the Omaha alcohol plant until its potential as a means of developing industrial uses of farm products in Nebraska and neighboring states has been determined.

Delay Refused

The Department director has previously asked the General Services Administration to delay sale of the plant, but his request was turned down.

Meeting with the committee Tuesday was Sen. Hans Jensen of Aurora who introduced the bill defeating the research fund.

Jensen said if the committee could "come up with a break-through on just a few things," it would "go a long way" in finding new, improved and increased uses for farm products.

Committee member V. E. Rossiter of Hartington, said it was a "compliment to the State of Nebraska to have a Legislature with the foresight to tackle this tremendously big problem."

He suggested the problem was one of "under-consumption rather than over-production."

E. T. Johnson of Fremont, another committee member, said the goal should be "utilization of the productivity of the Nebraska land itself, not the products themselves."

Other committee members are Maynard Jensen of Aurora, Robert Rauner of Gurley, and Dr. W. V. Lambert, dean of the Agricultural College of the University of Nebraska.

Iowans Present

An Iowa delegation, headed by Iowa State Sen. William Harbers, was on hand for the one-day session. The Iowa Department of Agriculture has indicated an interest in the Nebraska program and in the effects it would have on the western and southwestern parts of the state.

Finigan said the committee would go to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's research laboratory at Peoria, Ill. on September 17 to study new methods that could be incorporated into the Nebraska program. He said the agricultural committee of the Nebraska Legislature will likely go along.

Randall Line Fund OK Too Late, Unacceptable

Lincoln Star Special

Washington — A Senate-House conference committee Tuesday approved an appropriation of $104,000 for a power line from Ft. Randall to the Nebraska line, but a Nebraska public power spokesman said the move came too late and "We can't accept it."

A. L. Chantry, president of Nebraska Generation and Transmission Cooperative, said "We appreciate the attempt to help us but the involvement would cost us as much as the line is worth."

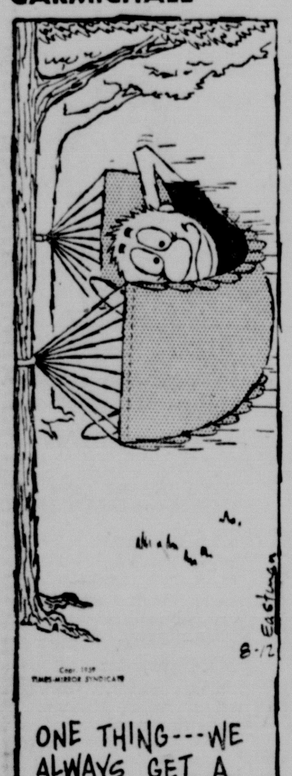

He explained that G&T has already let contracts and work has begun on construction of the 4 and a half miles of line, as a part of construction of the total line from Ft. Randall to Columbus, and that if work were halted on the already-begun South Dakota portion damages would have to be paid to the contractor.

"We made a sincere effort late in 1958 and early in 1359 to get the Bureau of Reclamation to build the line," Chantry said, "but were told flatly that Nebraska must build it. We appreciate the help of Nebraska's senators, but this comes 6 months too late."

Chantry also reiterated that Nebraska interests were fearful of a precedent under which the federal government would build transmission lines only to Nebraska borders rather than to the "load center".

"We have supported other states in getting transmission lines to carry power to the load centers, and now we have complied with the President's partnership program by building this line ourselves. Now we hope the government, as a part of the partnership program, will construct the next line," Chantry said.
